I have left out ground wires for the sake of clarity.

If you have any questions about grounding, please let me know.

The upper left screw on the left switch is the "common" screw. The lower right screw on the right switch is the "common" screw.

The lowest black wire, just above the lights, is part of a 14-2 with ground. Cap off its associated white wire at each location where the black wire is spliced.

The white wire is not shown in the drawing.
