

Writing Assignment: Op-Ed Essay

In this assignment, you will write an essay on an issue or controversy in contemporary digital society in the format of an “op-ed” article, using a historical perspective from the course, your own opinion, and research from newspapers and magazine sources.

An op-ed article is a piece of writing that appears in a magazine, website, or newspaper, and expresses a guest expert’s opinion on a topic—that is, someone who isn’t a regular writer for the publication. In venues like The New York Times the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, USA Today the Madison State Journal scientists, activists, public officials and other experts with a strong viewpoint provide expert and informed opinions on topics of contemporary importance.

In this assignment, you are the expert! You have experience using and thinking about digital technologies, you have opinions about society, culture, and technology—and, now, you have a few weeks of historical understanding of where computer technologies came from and what sorts of issues have surrounded their development since their invention. In the course of the next weeks, that understanding will only grow.

The Plan:

This assignment builds over the course of the semester.

1. First, between now (September 17) and October 2, meet with either your TA or Professor Kennedy during their zoom office hours for a quick 5 minute meeting to discuss an idea for an op-ed (click here to make an appointment with Professor Kennedy <https://calendly.com/devinkennedy/opedhistsci150>)
2. Second, you will write a draft of the op-ed (more details below) and submit it on canvas on October 30th We will check in during discussion sections about the progress of your articles during October, and if you have questions or concerns, please bring them to us—many may have similar issues and we can address them together.
3. Third, you will provide structured editorial feedback on the work of a peer, and receive feedback on your own work. (details on that to follow!)
4. Fourth and finally, you will take that feedback and produce a final version that you submit on canvas by December 9.

What is an Op-ed?

Newspapers and magazine, either in-print or online, often feature guest contributions from scientists, activists, community leaders, elected officials, intellectuals, business leaders, students, professors—basically anyone with an opinion that is informed by experience and research!

Are You Mixed? Sonia E. Janis, 2016-02-01 In Are You Mixed Sonia Janis explores the spaces in between race and place from the perspective of an educator who is multi racial As she reflects on her own experiences as a seventh grade student up to her eventual appointment as a school administrator she learns of the complexity of situating oneself in predetermined demographic categories She shares how she explores the intricacies of undefined spaces that teach her to embrace differences contradictions and complexities in schools neighborhoods and communities Exploring the in betweenness Anzaldúa He 2003 2010 of her life as a multi race person problematizes imbedded notions of race gender class and power The power of this memoir lies in its narrative possibilities to capture the contradictions and paradoxes of lives in between race and place to honor the subtleties fluidities and complexities of such experience and to cultivate understanding towards individual experience and the multicultural multiracial contexts that shape and are shaped by such experience He 2003 p xvii This memoir creates new ways to think about and write about in between experience and their relevance to multicultural and multiracial education Janis challenges educators teachers administrators and policy makers to view the educational experience of students with multiracial multicultural and multilingual backgrounds by shattering predetermined categories and stereotyped classifications and looking into unknown and fluid realms of the in betweenness of their lives This challenge helps create equitable and just opportunities and engender culturally responsive and inspiring curricular and learning environments to bring out the best potential in all diverse schools communities neighborhoods tribes and societies

Fiske Guide to Colleges 2005 Edward B. Fiske,2004 This annual guide to more than 300 colleges and universities has been the indispensable source of information for thousands of students parents and counselors

Wisconsin in the World Elise S. Ahn,2023-07-01 During the 2020 and 2021 phases of the global COVID 19 pandemic there was significant prognostication regarding what internationalization in higher education would look like in its aftermath Within the field of international education many stated the need to reimagine internationalization in and of higher education in the face of severe budget cuts restrictions on travel and increased government protectionism in the face of growing nationalistic populism globally to name a few challenges

Absent from many of those discussions however were the voices of many leader practitioners who have had to think flexibly about internationalization in higher education in order to sustain and grow programs throughout the last 20 years despite numerous exogenous factors e g earlier economic recessions and viral outbreaks along with endogenous factors like internal leadership transitions and institutional reorganizations

Wisconsin in the World explores how internationalization at the University of Wisconsin Madison UW has been a decades long ongoing endeavor

Against that backdrop the various chapters also provide a snapshot of how people across the UW campus were reflecting on their work amidst the COVID 19 pandemic and on the implications of the pandemic regarding the future of campus internationalization The book is organized into four overarching sections internationalization of the curriculum general and language experiential learning co curricular engagement and education away establishing linkages institutional and outreach and administration To highlight the expansive way campus units have been engaging in internationalization a wide ranging set of chapter case studies have been included Although not exhaustive this volume does provide a robust cross sectional view into internationalization at UW For international education scholars and practitioners then a number of the chapters also highlight areas that may warrant further engagement and exploration moving forward Finally by examining how internationalization at UW has been informed by the Wisconsin Idea this book explores how institutional internationalization strategies can align with and be tailored to institutional values for long term sustainability In addition to the 34 chapters focusing on different units and programs at UW Wisconsin in the World also includes a number of contributions from colleagues at other institutions Each section has a lead in chapter which provides an overview of the scholarship in that particular area and or a concluding chapter from a scholar practitioner situating the UW cases in relation to their own work The intention of structuring the book this way was to facilitate a dialogue among UW colleagues across institutions and with the scholarship in the field The target audience for Wisconsin in the World includes practitioners or scholar practitioners in the field of international education study abroad education away internships partnerships program development as well as faculty and students in global higher education or comparative and international education graduate programs Additionally this volume may be of general interest for any higher education administrator who may not have a background in international education but may become responsible for programs and support within a school or college context e g a dean or department chair
