Let your teaching mentor become your students' writing mentor with engaging mentor texts written and read by Ralph Fletcher. I wrote all 24 pieces in this book. You'll find an assortment of genres: stories, memoir, poems, essays, and excerpts from novels. The various texts are ordered from easiest/least challenging to hardest/most challenging. I tried to select short, high-interest pieces. Each one stands on its own with a beginning, middle, and ending. I tried to choose pieces that would bring a sense of closure by the end. Writer's Notes that give students an inside peek into craft. My Writer's Notes introduce the text, explain my thinking behind various decisions, and point out a few things I want kids to notice. With certain pieces, especially the last three, I highlight revisions I made along the way. I tried hard not to take the mystery out of good writing. Instead, these notes are my way of opening the door and leading the student into the text and practical classroom-tested suggestions like this from your colleagues: One of my students, Suzy, knows that she struggles to provide enough detail in her non-fiction pieces. For her piece about soccer, she told me that she knew she needed to include more details because she didn't want the reader to be confused. We had already read Ralph's Squirmy Wizards of Recycling.

so we looked at the Writer s Notes Ralph said he had brainstormed questions that readers may have had as they read about worm composting and he then tried to include the answers to those questions in the piece Suzy decided that she would write down questions that she thought her reader might still have about soccer and then make sure those questions were answered in her writing Since both Suzy and I have already developed a relationship with Ralph through his texts it felt like we were inviting an old friend to join our conference Kate Norem Morris Teacher The Bush School Seattle Washington Becoming a Literacy Leader Jennifer Allen,2023-10-10 In this second edition of Becoming a Literacy Leader Supporting Learning and Change author Jennifer Allen reflects on her work as a literacy specialist and how the role has evolved in the decade since she wrote the first edition Her experiences can apply to all school leaders including principals coaches teachers support staff and office administrators Allen focuses on three ideas to describe her work Layered Leadership the multitude of supports in place for teachers to encourage learning and change within schools Shared experiences that develop community and develop common understanding of practices curriculum and assessment Importance of rowing in the same direction in that literacy coaches and leaders stay interconnected and aligned to the goals of the school Allen knows the challenges of teachers face and advocates literacy coaches implement these layers of support within a school including in class support curriculum support and assessment study group facilitation and the cultivation of teacher leadership In Becoming a Literacy Leader she provides an explicit framework for implementing these layers of coaching and explains how administrators can use the literacy leader position to build and sustain change within their schools This book will be the road map for how literacy leaders and coaches approach their work with purpose and intention Online videos that accompany the book bring the text alive by showing readers what coaching looks and sounds like 10 Things Every Writer Needs to Know Jeff Anderson,2023-10-10 Whether writing a blog entry or a high stakes test essay fiction or nonfiction short story or argumentation students need to know certain things in order to write effectively In 10 Things Every Writer Needs to Know Jeff Anderson focuses on developing the concepts and application of ten essential aspects of good writing motion models focus detail form frames cohesion energy words and clutter Throughout the book Jeff provides dozens of model texts both fiction and nonfiction that bring alive the ten things every writer needs to know By analyzing strong mentor texts young writers learn what is possible and experiment with the strategies professional writers use Students explore discover and apply what makes good writing work Jeff dedicates a chapter to each of the ten things every writer needs to know and provides mini lessons mentor texts writing process strategies and classroom tips that will motivate students to confidently and competently take on any writing task With standardized tests and Common Core Curriculum influencing classrooms nationwide educators must stay true to what works in writing instruction 10 Things Every Writer Needs to Know keeps teachers on track encouraging discovering inspiring reminding and improving writing through conversation inquiry and the support of good writing behaviors Planning for Successful Reading and Writing Instruction in K-2 Antoinette Cerulli
