Crime Fiction: A Very Short Introduction Richard Bradford, 2015-05-28 Crime fiction has been one of the most popular genres since the 19th century but has roots in works as varied as Sophocles Herodotus and Shakespeare In this Very Short Introduction Richard Bradford explores the history of the genre by considering the various definitions of crime fiction and looking at how it has developed over time. Discussing the popularity of crime fiction worldwide and its various styles, the role that gender plays within the genre, spy fiction and legal dramas and thrillers, he explores how the crime novel was shaped by the work of British and American authors in the 18th and 19th centuries. Highlighting the works of notorious authors such as Edgar Allan Poe, Conan Doyle, Agatha Christie and Raymond Chandler to name but a few, he considers the role of the crime novel in modern popular culture and asks whether we can and whether we should consider crime fiction serious literature.

Encyclopedia of Nordic Crime Fiction Mitzi M. Brunsdale, 2016-05-12

Since the late 1960s the novels of Sjöwall and Wahlöö's Martin Beck detective series, along with the works of Henning Mankell, Hakan Nesser and Stieg Larsson, have sparked an explosion of Nordic crime fiction: grim police procedurals treating urgent sociopolitical issues affecting the contemporary world. Steeped in noir techniques and viewpoints, many of these novels are reaching international audiences through film and television adaptations. This reference guide introduces the world of Nordic crime fiction to English-speaking readers.

Caught between the demands of conscience and societal strictures, the detectives in these stories, like the heroes of Norse mythology, know that they and their world must perish but fight on regardless of cost. At a time of bleak eventualities, Nordic crime fiction interprets the bitter end as a celebration of the indomitable human spirit.

Scandinavian Review, 2006

1222 Anne Holt, 2011-12-27

From Norway's bestselling female crime writer comes a suspenseful locked room mystery set in an isolated hotel in Norway where guests stranded during a monumental snowstorm start turning up dead.

A TRAIN ON ITS WAY to the northern reaches of Norway derails during a massive blizzard 1 222 meters above sea level. The passengers abandon the train for a nearby hotel, centuries old and practically empty except for the staff. With plenty of food and shelter from the storm, the passengers think they are safe until one of them is found dead the next morning. With no sign of rescue and the storm continuing to rage, retired police inspector Hanne Wilhelmsen is asked to investigate. Paralysed by a bullet lodged in her spine, Hanne has no desire to get involved. But she is slowly coaxed back into her old habits as her curiosity and natural talent for observation force her to take an interest in the passengers and their secrets. When another body turns up, Hanne realizes that time is running out and she must act fast before panic takes over. Complicating things is the presence of a mysterious guest who had travelled in a private rail car at the end of the train and was evacuated first to the top floor of the hotel. No one knows who the guest is or why armed guards are needed, but it is making everyone uneasy. Hanne has her suspicions but she keeps them to herself. Trapped in her wheelchair, trapped by the storm and now trapped with a killer, Hanne must fit the pieces of the puzzle together before the killer strikes again.
