The Tao of the Tao Te Ching Michael LaFargue, 2010-03-31 In this new translation and commentary LaFargue interprets the concept of Tao in the Tao Te Ching as a spiritual state of mind cultivated in a particular school in ancient China a state of mind which also expressed itself in a simple but satisfying life style and in a low key but effective style of political leadership The interpretation offered here is not only historically accurate but also conveys the spiritual depth of the Tao Te Ching and its contemporary relevance The translation is made transparent by a design that presents all of the commentary on the page facing the relevant text

Lao Tzu and Anthroposophy Kwan-Yuk Claire Sit,2012-05 Having imagined a machine like world scientists now haunt this machine uneasily Their plight is paradoxical they have realized their world only through intense mental effort yet this effort finds no legitimate place in the world it so painstakingly comprehends It seems objectivity only comes at a cost Why for example is science unable to describe a smile Why is the moral life of a physicist regarded as his or her own private affair This exclusion of human qualities from science has practical as well as theoretical consequences If we systematically imagine a world in which human beings don t exist we will eventually create a world in which they cannot exist Reclaiming the human sources of scientific insight the authors of this book restore the scientist to the world given by science and celebrate the joyous marriage of sense and thought
