Albert

by Donna Jo Napoli

You never know what a day will bring. The morning begins like any other. Albert reaches out the window to check the weather. But from the moment a twig lands smack in the palm of his hand, life is never the same. Before he knows it, Albert is stranded, holding a brand new nest in his hand. The days go by, eggs are laid, the papa cardinal starts feeding berries to Albert, and, inevitably, chicks hatch. Meanwhile, Albert is slowly developing a different take on life. His previously protected world opens up as he witnesses the highs and lows of nature's course.

Illustrated by Jim LeMarche.

Activity:

1. Locate a book about birds native to your area. Study the type of nests that they build and the materials used to build the nest. Illustrate your research findings with a picture of the bird.
8. Talk about fears that people have and how they deal with them. What might help to deal with the fear? What helped Albert deal with his fear of going out into the world?

And the Dish ran away with the Spoon by Janet Steven and Susan Crummel

Every night the same thing, Dish runs away with the spoon and every night they return except one night they don't. So Cat, Cow and Dog set out to find them working through other rhymes such as Miss Muffet, Little Boy Blue, and the Big Bad Wolf's kitchen.

Activity: EALRS: Reading 2 - The student writes in a variety of forms for different audiences and purposes. Communication 2 - The student communicates ideas clearly and effectively.

1. After reading the story brainstorm with students a list of other Nursery Rhyme characters, Folk Fairy Tale characters or well-known Fiction characters who might have crossed paths with the Dish and Spoon as they were running away.
2. Discuss what the character's contact with the Dish and Spoon might have been like. What might they have said? What might they have done?
3. Try to keep suggestions in context with what we know about the characters, their setting and personality, etc.
4. After brainstorming and discussing possibilities have each student, or a small group of 2-3 students select one character that they would like to work with.
5. Have each student or group dictate or write a 1-3 paragraph, first person description, of their encounter with the Dish and Spoon.
6. Next have each student or one student from each group dress-up like their chosen character. They may bring costume items from home, use items from school, create masks, or make life-size body cutouts, etc.
7. A digital or regular photograph will be taken of each character.
9. These will printed out or mounted, paired with the written first person descriptions, and bound into a classroom or library book.
