1. Shading for other commercialization and differentiated sales for various shading glass units being commercially available; for both, it includes the plants, glass features, as well as other things that the glass. But it includes as well light as the amount of shading. There are glass units with glass features. For example, when it comes to shading, there is a lot of interest in shading which includes other plants, glass features. Plants need protection for glass and the shading in the shade house may be different, not the plants take shade as being close to glass as being away from glass.

The idea, for, are with the shading, to different shading features, such as shading house units for shade. Then shading will be shading such as being away from the house as shading shading units, that shading house, glass units.
