Teaching Early Writing and Reading Together Connie Campbell Dierking,2013-01-01 The writing reading connection means more than having your students write under the influence of literature that they have read. Noted author and educator Connie Campbell Dierking shows you how to develop a literacy connected classroom including using oral storytelling to scaffold primary reading and writing. She supplies more than 50 mini lessons organized by their classroom function to help you explicitly teach foundational literacy skills during writer's workshop or whole class and small group reading instruction. Dierking encourages you to make the most of the writing reading connection by thinking about some basic questions when you're crafting your literacy instruction: How can I connect the conversations in reading and writing workshop? What can I learn about the readers in my classroom through their writing? What can my students learn about reading through writing? How can I teach young writers to support their readers? How can I teach readers how to use a writer's supports intentionally?

Transform your K-2 literacy instruction. Teach writing and reading together. Forum, 1989. Resources in Education, 2001-10. Nonfiction Mentor Texts. Lynne R. Dorfman, Rose Cappelli, 2009. Guides teachers through a variety of projects, samples, and classroom anecdotes that demonstrate how teachers can help students become more effective writers of good nonfiction. Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts, Volume II. James Flood, Shirley Brice Heath, Diane Lapp, 2015-04-22. The Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts, Volume II brings together state-of-the-art research and practice on the evolving view of literacy as encompassing not only reading, writing, speaking, and listening but also the multiple ways through which learners gain access to knowledge and skills. It forefronts as central to literacy education the visual, communicative, and performative arts and the extent to which all of the technologies that have vastly expanded the meanings and uses of literacy originate and evolve through the skills and interests of the young.
