Arzubi,Elisa Mambrino,2010-04-20 Neuropsychological assessments are now widely used to identify learning disabilities and shape educational interventions However many special education teachers speech therapists lawyers pediatricians psychiatrists rehabilitation counselors and a host of other helping professions know very little about how to interpret and act on information contained in neuropsychological assessments The neuropsychological evaluations discussed in this text help shed light on a wide variety of psychiatric and medical conditions including learning disabilities severe and persistent mental illness traumatic brain injury neuropsychiatric disorders with accompanying chronic cognitive deficits and acquired or congenital neurological conditions This book emphasizes the breadth and depth of neuropsychological assessments and the many practical uses they have such as treatment planning diagnosis interventions and many more The authors offer practical guidance on neuropsychological testing and assessment across the lifespan from pediatric through geriatric patients The book is designed specifically for those professionals with little to no training in neuropsychology that need to apply knowledge gleaned from neuropsychological assessments Key topics discussed Neuropsychological testing and psychoanalysis Using neuropsychological instruments in school settings possibilities and limitations Using neuropsychological information in vocational rehabilitation planning Neuropsychology and speech language therapy Critical Practice in Higher Education Karen Gravett,2025-01-23 What is critical practice what is critique And what do these ideas have to do with higher education This book argues that engaging in critical practice is fundamental to meaningful teaching learning and research Critical practice is key to understanding societies technologies and the power relations that pervade our practice Critical approaches are vital for responding meaningfully to some of the knotty questions that we face in higher education And yet there is a need to re examine critical theorising in contemporary times to address the limitations of current conceptions of criticality where critique is at risk of becoming stale redundant even harmful International in scope this book engages theory and empirical data from recent research to offer new ways of thinking and doing critical practice Case studies are drawn from teachers and academics working in the UK Australia and America across a breadth of disciplines and learning environments Specifically the book proposes a move towards a relational critical practice After many years of attention that has been paid to cognitive notions of critical thinking skills and dispositions assumed to take place within the boundaries of rational individual minds this book takes us beyond thinking about criticality as an individualised activity Elaborating a critical practice that considers the affective embodied and relational nature of criticality this text will explore how we might look more closely at the entanglement of ideas and practice of mind and body of thinking feeling and doing In doing so this book argues for a celebration of critique and for the value of a relational critical practice in higher education
