Non-Native Language Teachers Enric Llurda, 2006-02-09 Non native language teachers have often been viewed as an unavoidable fate of the profession rather than an asset worth exploring and investigating Now that non natives are increasingly found teaching languages and particularly English both in ESL and EFL contexts the identification of their specific contributions and their main strengths has become more relevant than ever As a result there has recently been a surge of interest in the role of non native teachers but little empirical research has been published so far This volume is particularly rich in providing different approaches to the study of non native teachers NNS teachers as seen by students teachers graduate supervisors and by themselves It also contributes little explored perspectives like classroom discourse analysis or a social psychological framework to discuss conceptions of NNS teachers From Sidelines to Centre Field Murray Phillips, 2000 Phillips history and sociology of sport U of South Australia explores the changing role and techniques of coaching in Australia from the 1850s to the 1990s Addresses such issues as ethics sportsmanship professionalism and amateurism and documents the initiation of coaching education in Australia Distributed by ISBS Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Sideline Management in Sports Sérgio Rocha Piedade, Mark R.
