A History of Photography in Canada, Volume 1 Martha Langford, 2025-09-22 From early reports of the invention to its wide application during World War I the idea of photography created anticipation and participation in the modern world The first volume of A History of Photography in Canada captures this phenomenon by looking at hundreds of photographs generated in and about Canada in the making and by listening to the chords they struck in the collective imagination Emphasizing technological readiness and cultural eagerness for the medium Martha Langford shows how photography served ideals of progress and improvement as Canada s settler society looked to master the world by seizing its visible traces The imposition of these programs on Indigenous Peoples and indentured labourers is confronted throughout this volume which offers both narratives and counternarratives of subjectification Reproducing images of people places events and objects from the unceded territories of the First Nations Inuit and M tis from British North America and from the Dominion of Canada and the Dominion of Newfoundland Langford asks where and when photographs were taken why and by whom How did the making and preservation of a photograph alter the circumstances in which it was produced and how did this affect individual and collective consciousness Alongside accomplished portraits landscapes still lifes and their vernacular counterparts the book draws glimmers of photographic experience from treatises and doggerel official reports and personal diaries newspapers magazines letters and travelogues Anticipation to Participation chronicles eight decades of reinvention and repurposing from a wondrous discovery to the wide adoption of a basic tool for knowledge gathering artmaking and journaling Langford s sweeping narrative rewrites the history of photography from the bottom up vividly expanding the definition of photographic experience      Architecture in Nineteenth-Century Photographs Micheline Nilsen, 2017-07-05

 Revealing that nineteenth century photography goes beyond the functional to reflect the aesthetic intellectual and cultural concerns of the time this study proposes that each photographic image of architecture be studied both as a primary visual document and an object of aesthetic inquiry This multi faceted approach drives Architecture in Nineteenth Century Photographs Essays on Reading a Collection Despite three decades of post colonial post structuralist and gender conscious criticism the study of architectural photography continues to privilege technical virtuosity This volume offers a thematic exploration of the material and a socio historical examination that allows consideration of questions that have not been addressed comprehensively before in a single publication Themes include exoticism and armchair tourism the absence of women from architectural photography the role of photographs as commodities vernacular architecture and the picturesque and historic preservation urban renewal and nationalism Micheline Nilsen analyzes photographs from France and England the two countries where photography was invented and from around the world representing a corpus of over 10 000 photographs from the Janos Scholz Collection of Nineteenth Century Photographs of the Snite Museum of Art at the University of Notre Dame      Handbook of Research on Pedagogical Innovations for Sustainable Development Thomas, Ken D., Muga, Helen E., 2014-03-31 Summary This book brings together case study examples in the fields of sustainability sustainable development and education for sustainable development      Urban Artscapes Manila Castoro, Carolina Vasilikou, 2018-07-06 In recent years artists architects activists and curators as well as corporations and local governments have addressed the urban space They challenge its use and destination and dispute current notions of space legality trade and artistry Emerging art practices challenge old ideas about where art belongs what forms it can take and what political discourses it fosters Selected from papers presented at the 2013 Artscapes conference in Canterbury this collection of new essays explores the dynamic relationship between art and the city Contributors discuss the everyday artistic use of public space around the world from sculpture to graffiti to street photography      Photography Liz Wells, 2000 This textbook examines key debates in photographic theory and place them in their social and political context This second edition includes key concepts biographies of major thinkers and seminal references and provides a coherent introduction to the nature of photographic viewing      Photography, Early Cinema and Colonial Modernity Robert Dixon, 2013-11-15
Photography Early Cinema and Colonial Modernity is not a biography of Frank Hurley the man it is instead an examination of the social life of the many marvellous and meaningful things he made as a professional photographer and film maker The focus of this volume surrounds the media events that encompassed these various creations what Hurley called his synchronized lecture entertainments These media events were at once national and international they involved Hurley in an entire culture industry that was constantly in movement along global lines of travel and communication This raises complex questions both about the authorship of Hurley s photographic and filmic texts which were often produced and presented by other people and about their ontology as they were often in a state of reassemblage in response to changing market opportunities This unique study re imagines from inside the quiet and stillness of the archive the prior social life enjoyed by Hurley s creations amidst the complicated topography of the early twentieth century s rapidly internationalizing mass media landscape As a way to conceive of that space and of the social life of the people and things within it this study uses the concept of colonial modernity

A Companion to Photography Stephen Bull,2020-02-03 The study of photography has never been more important A look at today s digital world reveals that a greater number of photographs are being taken each day than at any other moment in history Countless photographs are disseminated instantly online and more and more photographic images are earning prominent positions and garnering record prices in the rarefied realm of top art galleries Reflecting this dramatic increase in all things photographic A Companion to Photography presents a comprehensive collection of original essays that explore a variety of key areas of current debate around the state of photography in the twenty first century Essays are grouped and organized in themed sections including photographic interpretation markets popular photography documents and fine art and provide comprehensive coverage of the subject Representing a diversity of approaches essays are written by both established and emerging photographers and scholars as well as various experts in their respective areas A Companion to Photography offers scholars and professional photographers alike an essential and up to date resource that brings the study of contemporary photography into clear focus

Public Space and the Challenges of Urban Transformation in Europe Ali Madanipour,Sabine Knierbein,Aglée Degros,2013-11-20 European cities are changing rapidly in part due to the process of de industrialization European integration and economic globalization Within those cities public spaces are the meeting place of politics and culture social and individual territories instrumental and expressive concerns Public Space and the Challenges of Urban Transformation in Europe investigates how European city authorities understand and deal with their public spaces how this interacts with market forces social norms and cultural expectations whether and how this relates to the needs and experiences of their citizens exploring new strategies and innovative practices for strengthening public spaces and urban culture These questions are explored by looking at 13 case studies from across Europe written by active scholars in the area of public space and organized in three parts strategies plans and policies multiple roles of public space and everyday life in the city This book is essential reading for students and scholars interested in the design and development of public space The European case studies provide interesting examples and comparisons of how cities deal with their public space and issues of space and society

Tourism and Visual Culture Theories and concepts Peter M. Burns,Cathy Palmer,Jo-Anne Lester,2010 Tourism is an essentially visual experience we leave our homes so as to travel to see places thus adding to our personal knowledge about and experience of the world The study of tourism as a complex social phenomenon beyond simply business is increasing in importance and by providing an examination of perceptions of culture and society in tourism destinations through the tourist s eyes this book discusses how destinations were and are created and perceived through the lens of the tourist's gaze. It is essential reading for researchers and students in tourism and related subjects. The British Journal of Photography William Crookes, T. A. Malone, George Shadbolt, J. Traill Taylor, William Blanchard Bolton, Thomas Bedding, 1919 Urban Planning Education Andrea I. Frank, Christopher Silver, 2017-06-26 This book examines planning education provision and approaches globally through a comparative and longitudinal perspective. It explores the emergence of planning education in the 20th century with its rich variation and yet a remarkable degree of cross fertilization. Each of the sections of the book is framed by an overview essay which has been prepared by the editors to provide the reader with a critical exposure to relevant scholarship drawing on the detailed case studies and exploratory essays on key issues in planning education. The first part of this volume focuses on the emergence of planning education programs in the twentieth century as a way to understand the current planning education environment. Then we explore how education in urban regional and spatial planning has developed in different ways in different countries and continents. The final part of this volume aims to envision how planning can adapt and develop to remain relevant to the development of human environments in the 21st century. Urban planning education has become a pervasive practice throughout the world as urbanization and development pressures have increased over the past half century and as demand increased for professional trained experts to guide those processes. The approaches vary widely based in part upon the discipline from which the planning program developed as well as the context specific challenges within the country or region where the program resides.
