Now We Can Speak North Korean Writers in Exile PEN Center, 2017-06-20 The fact that freedom is not allowed is evidence that a terrible dictatorship controls everything Dictatorship doesn't just fail to recognize the value of the people It rejects an individual's wisdom and creativity turning him or her into a merely utilizable slave That is the present tyranny of the North Korean regime This collection focuses on the suppression of freedom which is only one part of the many ways in which the North Korean regime ruthlessly represses and legislates to control the North Korean people The stories selected for inclusion in this book are factual North Korea is a human rights wasteland in which a single word not in accordance with regime maintenance can have you violently dragged in and quite possibly executed That it is an inhumane hostile power which must be overthrown as quickly as possible it demonstrates all by itself There is no other country in the world today that uses innocent humans as disposable byproducts in the maintenance of their regime as does the North Korean dictatorship Sixteen members of the North Korean Writers in Exile Center of PEN International together with other defector North Korean writers have compiled the pieces found in this book to send a message to the people of South Korea and the world s conscience that there should no longer be silence on the North Korean human rights situation Please read this collection closely and without anger Publisher Lee Ji myung Chairman of the North Korean Writers in Exile PEN Center American Agency Bulletin ,1925 The College Hook Pam Proctor,2009-10-31 A comprehensive guide to the powerful packaging tool called the Hook a special talent or achievement that leaps off the page of a college application and catches the eye of admissions officers Competition for entry to the nation s top colleges is at an all time high and intensifying every year Now nationally recognized college consultant and writer Pam Proctor reveals the packaging secrets that can help any student maximize the odds of admission to the college of his or her choice Using real life anecdotes and examples from winning applications Proctor provides students with a step by step program that will enable them to determine and develop their unique Hook and then package and market themselves at every stage of the admissions process The College Buzz Book Carolyn C.
