

Essay 1

Prompt: Why do you want to go to college?

The air is tainted with unnatural fumes of grease, wood, and burnt electrical tape. Oil slicks stain the floor. Thick wooden shelves sag unnervingly close to buckling under the weight of old house paint and power tools. A workbench lies buried beneath papers, rulers, cans, and metal shards. An uncomfortable growl pours from the water heater. Most people wouldn't describe my grimy garage as pleasant, but I love spending my free time here. It's where I built a 2 ft trebuchet in sixth grade, a 4 ft trebuchet in seventh grade, and plan to build an 8 ft trebuchet this winter break. It's where I built a battlebot and slapped an Arduino microcontroller on top to give it intelligence. Ever since I sat watching jets shake the sky and explosions rock the screen in the movie Iron Man as a stunned sixth grader, I've spent weekends experimenting in my garage, trying to learn everything I can about engineering and robotics.

Sure, outside of my garage I love wildlife and hiking, history, and weird foods. I love classic rock, jazz, and maybe even secretly Katy Perry. Nevertheless, I've always had a life plan centered on robotics: go to a great college, learn robotics, build robots, get a Bernese mountain dog, and live happily ever after in a beautiful forest home. It seems strange that I've committed myself to robotics so easily despite my many interests, but in reality, robotics combines nearly all of them. Computer science, electrical engineering, and mechanical engineering are crucial to the robot, but combine them with biology, astronomy, music, or ecology, and that's when robotics becomes amazing. I could help the sick with robots that give surgeons more dexterity while operating. I could help the poor with affordable, robot-made products. I could aid the elderly, replace the limbs of wounded warriors, and keep fire fighters from harm's way, all with robots. Although these robots may not be the crimson and gold Iron Man suit that first got me interested, I love the realistic and heroic possibilities in the field of robotics.

Almost as exciting as imagining the robots I could build, is imagining where I could build them. I could become a professor and research cutting edge A.I. algorithms. I could become an entrepreneur and bring my creations to market. I could even become an employee for a tech company and devote myself to its latest innovations. Maybe next year around this time, I will even be studying on the Freshman Quad. With the LCSR robotics lab, the minor in robotics, a Learning Through Creative Life Writing Celia Hunt, 2013-06-26 Creative Life Writing as a Tool for Transformative Learning examines the effect of creative writing on learners in terms of their personal development and individual sense of self Language and Perception: Essays in the Philosophy of Language Frank B. Ebersole, 2002-06-03 Frank Ebersole is a philosopher whose contribution to philosophy is the greatest of anyone this the 20th century especially in the areas of philosophy of language theory of knowledge and perception from Wittgenstein Empiricism and Language by John W Cook Oxford University Press 1999 Language and Perception has nine chapters seven that address philosophical problems about language and two chapters 2 and 9 that are more metaphilosophical The metaphilosophical chapters discuss philosophical pictures and some of Frank Ebersole s basic ideas about philosophy The other seven essays let you participate in his unique struggles to come to terms with such questions as What is the meaning of a word Isn t Wittgenstein s idea that things called by the same name have family resemblances significantly flawed Does language determine what we perceive Does a thing s being red cause it to look red the causal theory of perception Must the action of speaking be analyzed into simpler actions such as making sounds Can a bodily movement be part of an action Is fatalism implied by what one might say about the future Are natural kind words like proper names are they rigid designators This and its companion volume Meaning and Saying are not just other philosophy books about the philosophy of language In both books Ebersole by carefully using examples convincingly shows that the problems are the products of philosophical pictures The examples also make the pictures less compelling How the Second Edition Differs from the First Edition This edition differs from the first edition University Press of America 1979 in several ways Pictures Material that was formerly part of a postscript to chapter 1 has been revised and is now its own chapter chapter 2 Pictures and Wittgenstein on Pictures As a result the following chapters were renumbered Essay removed Chapter 7 in the first edition Truth and Fate Future Actions has been removed Essay added A new essay entitled Proper Names and Other Names has been added to the volume It s a revised version of an essay originally published in Philosophical Investigations Oct 1982 with the title Stalking the Rigid Designator Postscript Material that was formerly part of the preface is now revised and placed as chapter 9 at the end entitled Postscript Improved text Throughout the book Ebersole has made corrections stylistic improvements and changed the wording to remove ambiguities Preface The book is concerned with questions about the relations of language to reality Does physical reality predetermine the form of our language Does it determine the kinds of words in our simple basic vocabulary Does our language in basic ways determine the way we perceive reality Does our language embody the outlines of a certain theory of perception And does it incorporate a certain view of human actions and of the future These questions are expressions of the problems in the philosophy of language that people inevitably get themselves into while dealing with other philosophical problems And these are problems in the philosophy of language that have direct consequences for the way one deals with problems in other branches of philosophy At
