Summer Day Camp Schedule Examples:

Day Camp Programming and Administration Jill Moffitt, 2011 More and more recreation and fitness professionals are called on to create day camps for children in facilities that have traditionally been geared to recreation and fitness users. New programming and operational challenges arise as professionals are asked to serve a different population with innovative programs through these camps. You can overcome those challenges with Day Camp Programming and Administration: Core Skills and Practices. This handy reference, which is geared toward new professionals, will help you conduct a needs analysis and prepare a proposal for a facility-based camp regardless of your setting, develop business and marketing plans for your camp, manage risk and generate money through your camp, and manage programming, staff training, and administrative processes from conception through evaluation. The book comes with a CD-ROM that supplies you with a comprehensive set of worksheets and forms to assist you in planning, operating, and evaluating your camp. You can use these printable tools as the book guides you step by step through the camp management process. You will be exposed to an array of program choices and training and administrative tasks that will help you run successful camps. The author draws on her 12 years of experience in running day camps to help you plan your camp. You will learn how to gather information in making wise decisions as you get started, how to plan for safety and comply with health and safety standards, and how to develop camp policies and communicate with parents. You will then be guided through organizing the camp structure, including registration, the business plan, and the daily schedule. You will explore how to hire, train, develop, and evaluate staff, and you will examine common camp programs and discover how to select and implement your own program. Finally, you will learn how to evaluate your program and use that evaluation in preparing future camps. Day Camp Programming and Administration: Core Skills and Practices covers all you need to know to operate your own facility-based day camp, whether you are a professional in a municipal recreation department, a fitness owner looking to branch out, or a campus recreation professional. This guide addresses challenges you'll face as a new day camp provider through practical examples, tried and true suggestions, and tips that will help you fulfill your community's needs, increase your bottom line, and provide fruitful experiences for your day campers.

Autism: What Does It Mean to Me? Catherine Faherty, 2019-03-04 Autism: What Does It Mean to Me? is an indispensable and transformative tool and lifelong companion for autistic people, their parents, and families and professionals. The Child ,1951 Organized Activities As Contexts of Development Joseph L. Mahoney,Reed W. Larson,Jacquelynne S. Eccles,2005-03-23 School aged children in the U S and other Western nations spend almost half of their waking hours in leisure activities For some out of school time is perceived as inconsequential or even counterproductive to the health and well being of young persons Recently however there has been a growing recognition that along with family peers and school the organized activities in which some youth participate during these hours are important contexts of emotional social and civic development They provide opportunities for young persons to learn and develop competencies that are largely neglected by schools At the same time communities and national governments are now channeling considerable resources into creating organized activities for young people s out of school time This volume brings together a multidisciplinary international group of experts to provide conceptual empirical and policy relevant advances in research on children s and adolescents participation in the developmental contexts represented by extracurricular activities and after school and community programs Organized Activities as Contexts of Development provides a handbook like coverage of research in this new emerging field It considers a broad developmental time span from middle childhood through early adulthood providing information on how motivation participation and developmental experiences change as youth get older The contents cover one of the most salient topics in child and adolescent research education and social policy placing consistent emphasis on developmental aspects and implications of organized activity participation for young persons Representing contributors from several fields of study psychology criminal justice leisure science sociology human development education prevention and public policy the book is designed to appeal to students and scholars in all these areas Additionally the volume is written to be of interest to professionals who administer programs and develop policy on youth

Balancing Work and Caregiving for Children, Adults, and Elders Margaret B. Neal,1993-02 Exploring how caregivers juggle their responsibilities of work and family the authors of this volume suggest that dependant care needs to be addressed as a corporate family and community concern Drawing from literature as well as from their own extensive research they present a thorough investigation of the stress factors experienced by workers caught between the frequently conflicting demands of these two roles Policies benefits and services reviewed range from approaches that intervene in the caregiving process to those that change the world of work with such alternatives as flexible working hours child care facilities and tax credits for dependant care

Neighbourhood Houses Miu Chung Yan,Sean R. Lauer,2021-03-01 Neighbourhood Houses draws on a five year study to document and contextualize the neighbourhood house movement in Vancouver Social disconnection has led many observers to declare that urban communities are weakening and fragmenting Nonetheless the local community is where most aspects of everyday life occur where people establish their homes and pursue their ambitions It offers a secure haven in an unpredictable globalized world Neighbourhood houses are community hubs providing services such as public recreation child care health care and adult literacy classes bringing urban newcomers and neighbours together Contributors to this book outline the history of the Vancouver network its relationship with local government and other organizations in the region the programs and activities offered and the experiences of participants While globalization and migration create fragmented and disconnected societies in modern urban cities this timely study demonstrates that place based community organizations can provide an antidote
