Yearbook of the European Convention for the Prevention of Torture and Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment/Annuaire de la convention européenne pour la prévention de la torture et des peines ou traitements inhumains ou dégradants Council of Europe/Conseil de l'Europe, 2017-10-23 The European Convention for the Prevention of Torture and Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment was adopted by the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe in June 1987 It entered into force in February 1989 and all 47 member States are Parties to the Convention The Convention has already established itself as an important human rights instrument Its approach is quite different from that of the European Convention on Human Rights Whereas the ECHR provides a remedy for particular human rights violations after the event the Convention for the Prevention of Torture ECPT seeks to prevent human rights violations through a system of visits to places of detention The Convention is intended to be an integrated part of the Council of Europe system for the protection of human rights placing a proactive non judicial mechanism alongside the reactive judicial mechanism established under the ECHR The Yearbook of the European Convention for the Prevention of Torture offers an essential annual overview of developments in relation to the ECPT Part One contains information on ratifications and other such issues in the authentic English and French texts Part Two has details in English and French of the membership and activities of the Convention Part Three reprints the twenty first annual General Report of the ECPT in the official English and French texts Part Four contains the ECPT s reports to States and the State responses thereto that were made public during the year in question The ECPT s reports are published in the official English and or French texts and State responses in the English and or French versions submitted by the States concerned Bilingual English and French 2 volume set

The Architect in Practice David Chappell, Michael H. Dunn, 2016-01-26 Throughout its many editions The Architect in Practice has remained a leading textbook used in the education of architects While the content of the book has developed the message and philosophy has remained constant to provide students of architecture and young practitioners with a readable guide to the profession outlining an architect s duties to their client and contractor the key aspects of running a building contract and the essentials of management finance and drawing office procedure The eleventh edition follows in that tradition The text has been brought up to date to ensure it follows the new RIBA Plan of Work 2013 as the guide to the architect s workflow In addition a number of changes to standard forms of contract were made with the publication of the JCT 2011 suite of contracts and the RIBA Standard Form for the Appointment of an Architect 2010 2012 Revision These new forms are fully covered In addition the opportunity has been taken to reorganise the layout so that the content flows in a way that is more consistent with current architectural practice and to deal with the increasing use of BIM The eleventh edition of The Architect in Practice continues to provide the guidance and advice all students and practising architects need in the course of their studies and in their profession transparency and openness financial management public diplomacy and communication the British Council the BBC World Service The Committee is concerned that the FCO is facing serious financial pressures in this financial year due to the Treasury's withdrawal of its support for the Overseas Pricing Mechanism OPM which used to protect departments from the weakening of sterling There is a risk that the FCO may not be able to meet higher international subscriptions over the next two financial years causing its performance against Public Service Agreement targets to suffer The likely increase in the UN Regular Budget and other international subscriptions will push this figure even higher The FCO should have to shoulder the financial burden from within its already tight budget to pay for subscriptions which also benefit other Government departments The Committee recommends that additional nondiscretionary costs should properly be met by the Treasury

The Iran Nuclear Issue Yael Ronen, 2010-05-31 Controversy over the Iranian nuclear policy has been mounting in both legal and political circles since the early 2000s Most recently the IAEA tasked with verifying compliance of Member States with the NPT has been expressing concern that Iran's nuclear efforts are directed not solely at peaceful uses but also at military purposes In response various States have tried individually and collectively to engage Iran in agreed frameworks of action that would include an Iranian self-imposed restraint regarding its nuclear development This volume documents the Iranian nuclear issue tracing the evolution of international interest and concern with Iran's nuclear policy since the 1970s when Iran began earnest efforts to acquire nuclear capabilities Emphasis is placed on events since 2002 2003 when it was established that Iran had concealed certain aspects of its nuclear activities from IAEA Alongside reports of the IAEA and Security Council documents the volume covers diverse sources rather than relying solely on UN organs and agencies international organisations or dedicated ad hoc bodies Federal Register, 2013-06 Biennial Reports of the
