

The background of the slide is a dark grey collage. At the top, there is a horizontal strip of various shades of grey and white, resembling a color calibration target. To the left, a vertical row of numerous colored pencils is shown, with their tips pointing towards the center. On the right side, there are several blue pencils standing upright. In the bottom left corner, there are five red pens or markers standing upright. A white, stylized line drawing of a hand holding a pen is visible in the bottom left area, partially overlapping the red pens.
