Breastfeeding and Media Katherine A. Foss, 2017-06-14 This book centers on the role of media in shaping public perceptions of breastfeeding Drawing from magazines doctors office materials parenting books television websites and other media outlets Katherine A Foss explores how historical and contemporary media often undermine breastfeeding efforts with formula marketing and narrow portrayals of nursing women and their experiences Foss argues that the media s messages play an integral role in setting the standard of public knowledge and attitudes toward breastfeeding as she traces shifting public perceptions of breastfeeding and their corresponding media constructions from the development of commercial formula through contemporary times This analysis demonstrates how attributions of blame have negatively impacted public health approaches to breastfeeding thus confronting the misperception that breastfeeding and the failure to breastfeed rests solely on the responsibility of an individual mother

Father Time Sarah Blaffer Hrdy, 2024-05-14 A sweeping account of male nurturing explaining how and why men are biologically transformed when they care for babies It has long seemed self evident that women care for babies and men do other things Hasn t it always been so When evolutionary science came along it rubber stamped this venerable division of labor mammalian males evolved to compete for status and mates while females were purpose built to gestate suckle and otherwise nurture the victors offspring But come the twenty first century increasing numbers of men are tending babies
