The Lost Cause Cory Doctorow, 2023-11-14 It's thirty years from now We're making progress mitigating climate change slowly but surely But what about all the angry old people who can't let go For young Americans a generation from now climate change isn't controversial It's just an overwhelming fact of life And so are the great efforts to contain and mitigate it Entire cities are being moved inland from the rising seas Vast clean energy projects are springing up everywhere Disaster relief the mitigation of floods and superstorms has become a skill for which tens of millions of people are trained every year The effort is global It employs everyone who wants to work Even when national politics oscillates back to right wing leaders the momentum is too great these vast programs cannot be stopped in their tracks But there are still those Americans mostly elderly who cling to their red baseball caps their grievances their huge vehicles their anger To their alternative news sources that reassure them that their resentment is right and pure and that climate change is just a giant scam And they're your grandfather your uncle your great aunt And they're not going anywhere And they're armed to the teeth The Lost Cause asks What do we do about people who cling to the belief that their own children are the enemy When in fact they're often the elders that we love At the Publisher's request this title is being sold without Digital Rights Management Software DRM applied

Spectatorship Roxanne Samer, William Whittington, 2017-10-25 Media platforms continually evolve but the issues surrounding media representations of gender and sexuality have persisted across decades Spectator The University of Southern California Journal of Film and Television Criticism has published groundbreaking articles on gender and sexuality including some that have become canonical in film studies since the journal's founding in 1982 This anthology collects seventeen key articles that will enable readers to revisit foundational concerns about gender in media and discover models of analysis that can be applied to the changing media world today Spectatorship begins with articles that consider issues of spectatorship in film and television content and audience reception noting how media studies has expanded as a field and demonstrating how theories of gender and sexuality have adapted to new media platforms Subsequent articles show how new theories emerged from that initial scholarship helping to develop the fields of fandom transmedia and queer theory The most recent work in this volume is particularly timely as the distinctions between media producers and media spectators grow more fluid and as the transformation of media structures and platforms prompts new understandings of gender sexuality and identification Connecting contemporary approaches to media with critical conversations of the past Spectatorship thus offers important points of historical and critical departure for discussion in both the classroom and the field

Deadly and Slick Sita Balani, 2023-05-16 If race is increasingly understood to be socially constructed why does it continue to seem like a physiological reality The trickery of race Sita Balani argues comes down to how it is embedded in everyday life through the domain we take to be most intimate and essential sexuality Modernity inaugurates a new political subject made legible as an individual through the nuclear family sexual adventure and the pursuit of romantic love By examining the regulation of sexual life at Britain's borders in colonial India and through the functioning of the welfare state marriage laws education and counterterrorism Balani reveals that sexuality has become fatally intertwined with the making of race

Pure Innocent Fun Ira Madison, III, 2025-02-04 In this nostalgic and raucous collection of sixteen original essays Ira Madison III critic television writer and host of the beloved Keep It podcast combines memoir and criticism to offer a brand new pop culture manifesto This is the most fun I've had reading all year Like Chuck Klosterman before him Ira Madison III takes seriously and analyzes the pop culture detritus that took up hours of our lives Lin Manuel Miranda You can recall the first TV show movie book or song that made you feel understood that shaped how you live what you love and whom you would become It gave you an entire worldview For Ira Madison that book was Chuck Klosterman's Sex Drugs and Cocoa Puffs which cemented the idea that pop culture could be a rigorous subject and that for better or worse it shapes all of us In Pure Innocent Fun Madison explores the key cultural moments that inspired his career as a critic and guided his coming of age as a Black gay man in Milwaukee In this hilarious full throttle trip through the 90s and 2000s he recounts learning about sex from Buffy the Vampire Slayer facing the most heartbreaking election of his youth not George W Bush's win but Jennifer Hudson losing

American Idol and how never getting his driver's license in high school made him just like Cher Horowitz in Clueless a virgin who can't drive Brimming with a profound love for a bygone culture and alternating between irreverence and heartfelt insight Pure Innocent Fun like all the best products of pop culture will leave you entertained and surprisingly enlightened
