Uk Construction Market Development Report 2004:

Corporate Social Responsibility in the Construction Industry Michael Murray, Andrew Dainty, 2013-01-11 The construction process right through from planning and design to use and demolition has a major impact on society. Traditionally concern has been focused on its environmental impact and the quest for sustainability but this has now extended into the wider remit of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR). Essentially this means that businesses must act voluntarily in a socially ethical manner by developing a policy that encompasses the core principles enshrined by CSR. A unique presentation on a topic of emerging importance. Corporate Social Responsibility in the Construction Industry is essential reading for all built environment undergraduate and post graduate courses as well as CEOs and senior managers within construction businesses who may be about to embark on developing a CSR strategy. IBEA Conference 2011 Proceedings: Innovation and Integration - Science, Technology and Policy in the Built Environment Mahtab Akhavan Farshchi, 2012 The Changing Paradigm of Consulting Anthony F. Buono, Ralph Grossmann, Hubert Lobnig, Kurt Mayer, 2011-05-01 The 13th volume in the RMC series. The Changing Paradigm of Consulting is based on the best papers presented at the Academy of Management's Management Consulting Division's fourth international conference 2009 on the underlying dynamics within the fast paced world of business and management consulting. Held in Vienna, Austria, the conference brought together academicians, consultants and organizational practitioners to examine the changes taking place within the consulting field. The book's 19 chapters are divided into five sections that explore the emergence and implications of this new paradigm, delineating and illustrating the paradigm shift taking place within consulting, exploring the ramifications for global consulting, examining the challenges inherent in attempts to capture collaboration and cooperation in inter-organizational networks, analyzing the push toward the professionalization and professionalism of consultancy and assessing new approaches to management consulting focusing on innovative instruments, tools and intervention frameworks. The book captures the myriad complexities and uncertainties faced by consultants and their clients and the concomitant search for appropriate mindsets, attitudes and orientations as well as methods, tools and techniques. As each of the chapters indicates, while there are significant challenges facing the consulting industry, there are also a number of promising frameworks and approaches that can help us successfully meet these challenges. The Environmental Brief Richard Hyde, Steve Watson, York St John Business School, Steve Watson, Wendy Cheshire, Mark Thomson, 2007-01-24 The built environment is responsible for an estimated forty-five per cent of all greenhouse gas emissions. As the greatest opportunities for reducing these emissions occur during the briefing and design processes, the pathway to better design lies in preparing environmental briefs and using these to drive building design and produce buildings of high environmental performance. This process-driven book looks at the theoretical issues involved in an environmental brief and outlines methods by which architects can approach the writing of a brief that considers all aspects of the natural and the built environment and relates these concepts to a number of case studies from around the world
