Kovac, 2019-06-07 The IoT is the next manifestation of the Internet The trend started by connecting computers to computers progressed to connecting people to people and is now moving to connect everything to everything The movement started like a race with a lot of fanfare excitement and cheering We re now into the work phase and we have to figure out how to make the dream come true The IoT will have many faces and involve many fields as it progresses It will involve technology design security legal policy business artificial intelligence design Big Data and forensics about any field that exists now This is the reason for this book There are books in each one of these fields but the focus was always an inch wide and a mile deep There s a need for a book that will introduce the IoT to non engineers and allow them to dream of the possibilities and explore the work venues in this area The book had to be a mile wide and a few inches deep The editors met this goal by engaging experts from a number of fields and asking them to come together to create an introductory IoT book Fundamentals of Internet of Things for Non Engineers Provides a comprehensive view of the current fundamentals and the anticipated future trends in the realm of Internet of Things from a practitioner s point of view Brings together a variety of voices with subject matter expertise in these diverse topical areas to provide leaders students and lay persons with a fresh worldview of the Internet of Things and the background to succeed in related technology decision making Enhances the reader s experience through a review of actual applications of Internet of Things end points and devices to solve business and civic problems along with notes on lessons learned Prepares readers to embrace the Internet of Things era and address complex business social operational educational and personal systems integration questions and opportunities

Doing Business on the Internet

Fay Sudweeks,Celia T. Romm,2012-12-06 FAY SUDWEEKS AND CELIA ROMM At the tum of the twenty first century global communication is changing the fabric of society at a rate never experienced before The Internet in particular has redrawn the map of global economy To be competitive in today s marketplace companies need to expand commercial activities beyond national borders The global network of electronic infrastructure has played a significant role in this expansion but the technology itself is not the factor driving the business revolution The changes are driven by the interaction of information technology and customer demand Customers are not only adapting to new technologies they are demanding more and more global competition Electronic commerce therefore is arguably the most important economic trend of our time Its presence on the Internet in particular is becoming crucial to the effective functioning of organisations especially in a world where companies need to deal with suppliers customers partners and their own units distributed across the world A global business industry created by the Internet is no longer a projected vision of technocrats it is a reality The Internet is already playing a significant role in determining corporate strategy and in creating values
