Bible, 2012-11-01 Because the Bible describes the second person of the Trinity as the key agent in creation redemption and the restoration of all things it is imperative that Christians seeking conformity to the image of Christ root their understanding of and motivation for creation care in a theology and ethic that seeks to maximize the worship of Christ throughout all creation Discussions related to creation care and environmental ethics have become both politically charged and highly controversial Unfortunately while a growing number of Christian books address various aspects of creation care that either support or deny the reality of global warming or perhaps advocate various policies and practices there is very little work available seeking to focus on clarify and establish the biblical and theological foundations upon which Christians ought to care for God's world Even more specifically there seems to be almost a complete dearth of accessible works in theology or ethics that offers a Christology of creation care Thus the purpose of True North is to explore the person and work of Christ in creation redemption and the restoration of all things so as to establish the idea that caring for God's creation depends not upon prognostications for or against a global warming crisis Rather the motivation for Christians to care for creation flows from the created purposes established in the very fabric of the universe faithful discipleship in Christ and the inherent goal to return to God all the glory he is due from every corner and aspect of creation True North Martin Wainwright, 2012-06-05

Abysmal weather slag heaps funny accents the bleak uplands of a landscape carved out of millstone grit townscapes of abandoned mills and shipyards the detritus of an industrial revolution well past its sell by date These all too often are the gloomy perceptions of the north the foundations for the belief that northerners spend their lives battling hardship and misery and that nothing beyond Watford is worth a bag of chips With an insider's sensitivity and a journalist's enquiring mind northerner Martin Wainwright swiftly dispels these and other myths He reaches back through the historical record to uncover where and how many of the old clichés arose and goes on to paint a picture of the north as it is today and has always been a setting of wild coastline lakes and green dales inhabited by indomitably inventive northerners proud of their past and forging a future of brilliant new enterprises Lavishly illustrated with over 100 stunning images from the Guardian's archives Wainwright's incisive and wittily observant assessment of a region that is flourishing socially and culturally leaves us in no doubt that true north is as vibrant and exciting as it is beautiful True North Bernie Finkelstein, 2012-04-17 One of the all time greats in Canadian music recounts his life and times in the business from the 1960s to the present Whether acting as a producer record label owner or manager of great singer songwriters and bands Bernie Finkelstein recipient of the 2006 Juno Special Achievement Award has played a pivotal role in bringing great Canadian music to the rest of the world Bernie Finkelstein has been a prominent figure in the Canadian music industry for nearly five decades Now a couple years after selling his beloved True North label and only recently stepping down from his role at MuchFACT which has given out more than 63 million in grants to Grammy winning acts like Sarah McLachlan Nelly Furtado and Arcade Fire Bernie is finally ready to talk In this wildly entertaining and outspoken memoir the producer label owner and artist manager opens up about his childhood breaking into the Greenwich Village scene with The Paupers at age 19 discovering Bruce Cockburn producing the loudest band in the world Kensington Market managing and producing Murray McLachlan Blackie The Rodeo Kings and Rough Trade winning 40 Junos and much more
