Tshwane Metro Police 2016:

Police Integrity in South Africa Sanja Kutnjak Ivkovich, Adri Sauerman, 2020-04-29 Policing in South Africa has gained notoriety through its extensive history of oppressive law enforcement. In 1994 as the country's apartheid system was replaced with a democratic order, the new government faced the significant challenge of transforming the South African police force into a democratic police agency, the South African Police Service (SAPS), that would provide unbiased policing to all the country's people. More than two decades since the initiation of the reforms, it appears that the SAPS has rapidly developed a reputation as a police agency beset by challenges to its integrity. This book offers a unique perspective by providing in-depth analyses of police integrity in South Africa. It is a case study that systematically and empirically explores the contours of police integrity in a young democracy. Using the organizational theory of police integrity, the book analyzes the complex set of historical, legal, political, social, and economic circumstances shaping police integrity. A discussion of the theoretical framework is accompanied by the results of a nationwide survey of nearly 900 SAPS officers probing their familiarity with official rules, their expectations of discipline within the SAPS, and their willingness to report misconduct. The book also examines the influence of the respondents' race, gender, and supervisory status on police integrity. Written in a clear and direct style, this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology, policing, sociology, political science, as well as to police administrators interested in expanding their knowledge about police integrity and enhancing it in their organizations.

Marriages of Inconvenience Susan Booysen, 2021-12-12 Marriages of Inconvenience The politics of coalitions in South Africa is a research-based volume that collates and interprets lessons that South Africa should take to heart in managing interparty coalitions. It draws from domestic experiences as well as from case studies on the rest of the African continent and generic instances further afield. Coalitions in various iterations have been a part of the South African polity since the attainment of democracy in 1994. This started nationally with a grand coalition in the form of a Government of National Unity as mandated in the interim constitution. Coalitions have also found expression in some of the country's provinces. After the transition, multiparty governments were sustained at national and provincial levels either as a matter of necessity due to election outcomes or for other political considerations. At local government level, coalitions have been relatively commonplace in South Africa from the onset of democratically elected municipalities in 2000, with many situations where no single party attained an absolute majority. This gained prominence from 2016 when many metropolitan governments and some large towns became sites of coalition politics.

Anatomy of State Capture Nina Callaghan, Robyn Foley, Mark Swilling, 2021-11-26 Following the release of the Public Protector's State of Capture Report in November 2016, South Africans have been witness to an explosion of almost daily revelations of corruption, mismanagement, and abuses by those entrusted to lead the nation. The extent of this betrayal is overwhelming, and it is often difficult to distill what actually happened during the Zuma administration. This book draws on the insights and expertise of 19 contributors from various sectors and disciplines to provide an account of what transpired at strategic sites of the state capture project The ongoing threat of state capture demands a response that probes beyond what happened to understanding how it was allowed to happen The stubborn culture of corruption and misgovernance continue to manifest unabated and the predatory practices which enable state capture have not yet been disrupted It is our hope that the various case studies and analyses presented in this book will contribute to confronting these shortcomings in current discourse and open avenues for progressive deliberation on how to collectively reclaim the prospects of a just and prosperous South Africa for all

Behold the Turtle Bonang Mohale, 2021-11-05 Behold the turtle he only makes progress when his neck is stuck out This proverb included in Bonang Mohale's best selling first book Lift As You Rise sets the tone for his second book which includes fresh insights and wisdom from one of South Africa's best loved leaders As a change agent defender of democracy and a social justice activist Bonang continues to stick his own neck out addressing issues of key societal importance Following on from the success of his first book his new book Behold the Turtle Thoughts on Ethically Principled Leadership expands on issues of leadership resilience ethics and social justice sounding a call for change Never one to avoid tough issues Bonang tackles the role that business institutions of higher learning and other organisations need to play in creating South Africa's future as well as the risk and responsibility required of each of us as individuals The book incorporates insights from Bonang's respected colleagues such as Mteto Nyati Adrian Gore Andile Nomlala Vukani Mngxati and Nicola Kleyn who add personal lessons and anecdotes creating a pool of wisdom from which readers can drink deeply Citing Alexander the Great Bonang says I am not afraid of an army of lions led by a sheep I am afraid of an army of sheep led by a lion This book focuses on ethical leadership and embracing our own agency A MUST READ Professor Bonang F Mohale is the Chancellor of the University of the Free State Professor of Practice at the Johannesburg Business School JBS College of Business and Economics Chairman of both Bidvest Group Limited and SBV Services President of Business Unity South Africa former CEO of Business Leadership South Africa and past president of the Black Management Forum

Manipulating Political Decentralisation Lovise Aalen, Ragnhild L. Muriaas, 2017-10-12 Can autocrats establish representative subnational governments And which strategies of manipulation are available if they would like to reduce the uncertainty caused by introducing political decentralisation In the wake of local government reforms several states across the world have introduced legislation that provides for subnational elections This does not mean that representative subnational governments in these countries are all of a certain standard Political decentralisation should not be confused with democratisation as the process is likely to be manipulated in ways that do not produce meaningful avenues for political participation and contestation locally Using examples from Africa Lovise Aalen and Ragnhild L. Muriaas propose five requirements for representative subnational governments and four strategies that national governments might use to manipulate the outcome of political decentralisation The case studies of Ethiopia Malawi South Africa and Uganda illustrate why autocrats sometimes are more open to competition at the subnational level than democrats Manipulating Political

Decentralisation provides a new conceptual tool to assess representative subnational governments quality aiding us in building theories on the consequences of political decentralisation on democratisation

Labour Law Rules! Third Edition Marie McGregor, 2017-11-17 Labour Law Rules is a book designed primarily as an introductory text for students encountering labour law for the first time whether their goal is a law degree or some other discipline involving a basic knowledge of the labour relations regulatory regime in South Africa In the past two years since publication of the first edition of Labour Law Rules some significant events took place which impacted on labour law resulting in a number of changes proposed to reform labour law The new edition of Labour Law Rules aims to lay a sound and up to date foundation of basic labour law rules which will enable students to be empowered to assist in shaping the future working environment and laws of the country The second edition of the bestselling text book Labour Law Rules continues to provide a highly accessible text on labour equity social security skills development and related laws fully updated to include the latest changes and amendments in labour law in South Africa It discusses these laws against the backdrop of South Africa as a member state of the ILO and the economic and socio economic context in the country

Edwin Cameron: Influences and impact Nurina Ally, Leo Boonzaier, 2025-07-13 An outstanding collection of essays written by some of the leading scholars of South African law which has resulted in a fitting tribute to Edwin Cameron s contribution to our constitutional project Kate O Regan Former Justice of the Constitutional Court of South Africa Edwin Cameron s life and incomparable contribution to the law are justly celebrated in this thoughtfully curated set of essays penned by people who have walked parts of the path with him Jason Brickhill Member of the Johannesburg Bar

Freedom in the World 2017 Freedom House, 2017-12-21 Freedom in the World the Freedom House flagship survey whose findings have been published annually since 1972 is the standard setting comparative assessment of global political rights and civil liberties The survey ratings and narrative reports on 195 countries and fifteen territories are used by policymakers the media international corporations civic activists and human rights defenders to monitor trends in democracy and track improvements and setbacks in freedom worldwide The Freedom in the World political rights and civil liberties ratings are determined through a multi layered process of research and evaluation by a team of regional analysts and eminent scholars The analysts used a broad range of sources of information including foreign and domestic news reports academic studies nongovernmental organizations think tanks individual professional contacts and visits to the region in conducting their research The methodology of the survey is derived in large measure from the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and these standards are applied to all countries and territories irrespective of geographical location ethnic or religious composition or level of economic development

The South African State Transformed? Louis A. Picard, Thomas M. Mogale, Caitlin C. Corrigan, 2024-09-10 This book examines the nature of the 1994 political transition in South Africa and its impact on post apartheid South Africa Specifically it examines the failures of liberalism within the context of the transitional process that led to the institution if not the practice of a non racial state in 1994 The term liberal is an eclectic term defining a several of views political and economic We use the term here within context but essentially define it as a commitment to open views the willingness to consider change and to value basic human rights The nature of institutional change in South Africa as it moved towards a democratic state would influence whether South Africa would succeed as a newly industrializing pluralist democratic country or collapse into yet another African failed state As South Africa moves toward its fourth decade of majority rule the view towards the future is much less promising than it was in 1994      Decentralization and Constitutionalism in Africa Charles M. Fombad,Nico Steytler,2019-09-10 This collection of essays assesses the efforts of African governments to constitutionalise decentralisation be it in the form of federalism local government or traditional authorities Since the end of the Cold War jurisdictions across Africa have witnessed an ostensible return to multi party democracy within the paradigm of constitutionalism and the rule of law Linked to the democratisation process many countries took steps to decentralize power by departing from the heavily centralized systems inherited from colonial regimes The centralization of power typically characterized by the personalization and concentration of power in the hands of leaders and privileged elites in capital cities mostly resulted in repressive regimes and fragile states As decentralisation is a response to these challenges this volume analyses the dynamic relationship between the efforts to implement decentralization and presence or absence of constitutionalism This volume examines a variety of forms and degrees of decentralization found across Africa It advances a new understanding of trends and patterns and facilitates the exchange of ideas among African governments and scholars about the critical role that decentralisation may play in democratization of and constitutionalism in Africa      Urban Geography in South Africa Ruth Massey,Ashley Gunter,2019-08-17 This book embraces South Africa and its place in the Global South providing a succinct theoretical and empirical analysis and discussion of urban issues in the country There have been sporadic calls from the Urban Geography community for the development of an overarching and comprehensive text that explores contemporary processes and practices taking place in urban South Africa and more widely the Global South This is an edited collection of chapters by leading urban theorists and practitioners working on various themes within urban South Africa and serves as a base for scholars and students interested in urban perspectives from countries in the Global South      Judicial Bricolage Tania Groppi,Marie-Claire Ponthoreau,Irene Spigno,2025-02-06 This book represents a unique contribution to comparative legal studies by presenting the results of an empirical research project on the use of foreign precedents in constitutional interpretation in 31 jurisdictions worldwide It expands and updates the outcomes presented in the previous successful book The Use of Foreign Precedents by Constitutional Judges edited by Tania Groppi and Marie Claire Ponthoreau and published in 2013 as Volume 1 of the series Hart Studies in Comparative Public Law This new research covering countries from all the continents with special attention to some of the emerging jurisdictions of the Global South confirms that the practice of making explicit use of foreign precedents is still limited both quantitatively and qualitatively Judicial dialogue only exists in common law jurisdictions and even there judicial bricolage is much more common than judicial comparativism Since the previous edition this practice has gone hand in hand with new developments in constitutional law such as the democratic erosion and backsliding the emergence of populist movements the increasing role of regional human rights courts which in many cases overshadowed foreign sources and the end of a global vision of constitutionalism Applying a quantitative and a qualitative analysis with the support of tables and data the book gives a more complete picture of the practice of citing foreign precedents in this new and challenging era resulting in essential reading for comparative and constitutional legal scholars

Race Talk in the South African Media Gawie Botma, 2020-01-06 This book makes a very significant timely and relevant contribution to a very topical subject of immense local as well as global interest Through tracing the evolution of media discourse about race and racism which the author prefers to call race talk the writer prised open a window to a panoramic variegated and yet nuanced perspective of the perennial South African race question etched across the vistas of time and memory since Jan Van Riebeeck set up the first European settlement as a refreshment station for the Dutch East India Company at the Cape of Good Hope in 1652 up to the time of writing this book It lends a fresh lens through which to re read South African society not only to a studious scholar of media history but also to anybody interested in the general history of South Africa Dr Zvenyika Mugari WITS This book is based on meticulous archival searching presented in a new fresh and highly engaging way This is a book based on evidentiary led scholarly principles that has lucidity as a goal Unlike so many scholarly works which are turgid and very difficult to read because they are written in restricted codes meant only for other academics this manuscript is wonderfully lucid accessible and a pleasure to read The prime readership will be academics but its lucidity makes it appealing beyond a purely academic readership hopefully reaching media professionals and students also and influencing debates on race policy This is how academic books in fact should be written Prof Keyan Tomaselli University of Johannesburg The author has embarked on a very difficult and complex task of understanding the race construct in the South African media context This is a highly contested and contentious space in South Africa and it is particularly arduous for a white middle class middle aged Afrikaans male to navigate this space The author has however eloquently managed to pilot this fine line of controversy He offers a balanced view of the belligerent debate without treading insensitively on the toes of protagonists and at the same time challenges prevailing views Andr Rose National Cancer Institute

Race, Ethnicity, Crime, and Justice Akwasi Owusu-Bempah, Shaun Gabbidon, 2020-09-24 Race Ethnicity Crime and Justice An International Dilemma Second Edition takes a unique comparative approach to the exploration of race and ethnicity related justice issues in five countries around the world Using the colonial model as a theoretical lens Owusu Bempah and Gabbidon analyse data from Great Britain the United States Canada Australia and South Africa These international case studies help students contextualize race and justice issues within and across nations Concise historical framing illuminates today's racial dynamics in these diverse justice systems and accessible theory grounds the comparison of crime and justice data from the early 21st century with current statistics A new concluding chapter revisits the question of where these nations fit in the global context of state and non state actors and of ethnic and racial justice issues This new edition is suitable for use as a core or supplemental text for advanced undergraduates and early graduate courses on race and crime minorities and criminal justice diversity in criminal justice and comparative justice systems It is also appropriate for use in sociology and ethnic studies courses that focus on race and crime

Anchored in Place Bank, Leslie, Cloete, Nico, 2018-11-05 Tensions in South African universities have traditionally centred around equity particularly access and affordability historical legacies such as apartheid and colonialism and the shape and structure of the higher education system What has not received sufficient attention is the contribution of the university to place based development This volume is the first in South Africa to engage seriously with the place based developmental role of universities In the international literature and policy there has been an increasing integration of the university with place based development especially in cities This volume weighs in on the debate by drawing attention to the place based roles and agency of South African universities in their local towns and cities It acknowledges that universities were given specific development roles in regions homelands and towns under apartheid and comments on why sub national place based development has not been a key theme in post apartheid higher education planning Given the developmental crisis in the country universities could be expected to play a more constructive and meaningful role in the development of their own precincts cities and regions But what should that role be Is there evidence that this is already occurring in South Africa despite the lack of a national policy framework What plans and programmes are in place and what is needed to expand the development agency of universities at the local level Who and what might be involved Where should the focus lie and who might benefit most and why Is there a need perhaps to approach the challenges of college towns secondary cities and metropolitan centers differently This book poses some of these questions as it considers the experiences of a number of South African universities including Wits Pretoria Nelson Mandela University and especially Fort Hare as one of its post centenary challenges

The Unity of Public Law? Mark Elliott, Jason NE Varuhas, Shona Wilson Stark, 2018-04-19 This major collection contains selected papers from the second Public Law Conference an international conference hosted by the University of Cambridge in September 2016 The collection includes contributions by leading academics and judges from across the common law world including senior judges from Australia Canada New Zealand and the UK The contributions engage with the theme of unity and disunity from a number of perspectives offering a rich panoply of insights into public law which significantly carry forward public law thinking across common law jurisdictions setting the agenda for future research and legal development Part 1 of the volume contains chapters which offer doctrinal and theoretical perspectives Some chapters seek to articulate a unifying framework for understanding public law while others seek to demonstrate the plurality of public law through the method of legal taxonomy A number of chapters analyse whether different fields such as human rights and administrative law are merging with others

considering specific unifying themes or concepts in public law The chapters in Part 2 offer comparative perspectives charting and analysing convergence and divergence across common law systems Specific topics include standing proportionality human rights remedies use of foreign precedents legal transplants and disunity and unity among subnational jurisdictions The collection will be of great interest to those working in public law      Countdown to Socialism Anthea Jeffery, 2023-07-19 With growth stalling joblessness at crisis levels and governance unravelling most South Africans cannot fathom why the ANC does not embark on meaningful reform The answer lies in what is seldom raised the ruling party's unwavering determination to take the country by incremental steps from capitalism to socialism This transformation is being implemented via a Moscow inspired national democratic revolution NDR dating back many decades Despite the Soviet Union's collapse in 1991 the ANC SACP alliance still sees the NDR as offering the most direct route to socialism in South Africa and hence as its bedrock strategy The NDR has been implemented in many different spheres since 1994 By way of example NDR interventions have already made millions of people unemployable and the mining sector largely uninvestable They now aim at land expropriation without compensation EWC and the effective nationalisation of private healthcare and pensions The NDR is the key to understanding ANC rule over some 30 years yet most South Africans have been kept in the dark on it This book aims to fill that gap Written in clear and simple language it provides an indispensable primer on the NDR and its role in the countdown to socialism in South Africa      Living the urban periphery Paula Meth, Sarah Charlton, Tom Goodfellow, Alison Todes, 2024-07-30 The edges of cities are increasingly understood as places of dynamism and change but there is little research on African urban peripheries the nature of building growth investment and decline that is shaping them and how these are lived This co-authored monograph draws on findings from an extensive comparative study on Ethiopia and South Africa in conversation with a related study on Ghana It examines African urban peripheries through a dual focus on the experiences of living in these changing contexts alongside the logics driving their transformation Through its conceptualisation and application of five logics of periphery it offers unique contextually informed insights into the generic processes shaping urban peripheries and the variable ways in which these are playing out in contemporary Africa for those living the peripheries      A Turbulent South Africa Jérôme Tournadre, 2018-03-01 Highlights the continuing social unrest and public protest occurring in South Africa's poorest districts Frequently praised for its democratic transition South Africa has experienced an almost uninterrupted cycle of social protest since the late 1990s There have been increasing numbers of demonstrations against the often appalling living conditions of millions of South Africans pointing to the fact that they have yet to achieve full citizenship A Turbulent South Africa offers a new look at this historic period in the existence of the young South African democracy far removed from the idealistic portrait of the Rainbow Nation Jérôme Tournadre draws on interviews and observations to take the reader from the backstreets of the squatters camps to international militant circles and from the immediate infra-political level to the worldwide anti-capitalist protest movement He investigates the mechanisms and the meaning of social discontent in light of several different phenomena These include the struggle of the poor to gain recognition the persistent memory of the fight against apartheid the developments in the political world since the Mandela Years the coexistence of liberal democracy with a popular politics found in poor and working class districts and many other factors that have played a crucial part in the social and political tensions at the heart of post apartheid South Africa

You Can't Go to War without Song Omotayo Jolaosho, 2022-07-26 You Can't Go to War without Song explores the role of public performance in political activism in contemporary South Africa Weaving together detailed ethnographic fieldwork and an astute theoretical framework Omotayo Jolaosho examines the cohesive power of protest songs and dances within the Anti Privatisation Forum APF one of many social movements that emerged in the wake of South Africa's democratic transition after 1994 Jolaosho demonstrates the ways APF members adapted anti apartheid songs and dance to create new expressive forms that informed and commented on their struggles for access to water electricity housing education and health facilities the costs of which had been made prohibitive by privatization You Can't Go to War without Song offers profiles of individual activists to amplify its central point social movements like the APF are best understood as the coming together of individuals and it is the songs and dances of the movement that bind these individuals together and create opportunity for community organization Chapters on women and youth complicate such understandings of community however showing how activist lives and experiences are shaped by gender and generation
