Wilcox,2016-06-28 Abraham Joshua Heschel said that We are closer to God when we are asking questions than when we have the answers He believed that to be a Christian is not to be a person who knows all the answers but one who lives in the part of the self where the question is constantly being born Most of us don t think very much about our questions In our culture we are accustomed to being able to find out answers to nearly any question just by typing it into Google search or asking Siri But behind any answer there is always a question Sometimes the question isn t clear to us sometimes it is not very well articulated even to ourselves But it is always there In over thirty years as a psychotherapist and spiritual director Peter C Wilcox has seen how the questions people ask themselves have shaped their lives in some very important ways This book is an invitation to see how important it is to learn how to ask the right questions about our lives This is because our choice of questions leads us on a path of discovery towards answers that help us to grow spiritually and psychologically Our questions orient our lives and give direction to us We will see that they enable us to make fifteen choices that have a tremendous impact on the kind of person we become Reading and the Reference Librarian Juris Dilevko,Lisa Gottlieb,2014-10-16 Reference librarians are no longer expected to know much about the information they find they are merely expected to find it Technological competency rather than knowledge has become the order of the day In many respects reference service has become a matter of typing search terms into a library s online catalog or a web search engine and providing the patron with the results of the search Calling for a re intellectualization of reference librarianship this book suggests another approach to providing quality reference service reading The authors surveyed both academic reference librarians and public library reference personnel in the United States and Canada about their reading habits From the 950 responses the authors present findings about the extent to which librarians read newspapers periodicals fiction and nonfiction and recount and analyze stories about how reading has made them better librarians The authors also report that North American professors in the humanities and social sciences believe that the best reference librarians are those who have wide ranging subject based knowledge as opposed to the type of process based functional knowledge that is increasingly dominating the curricula of many Library and Information Science programs

Ciaramicoli,2009-11-01

Discover what achievers all over the world are realizing The story you created about yourself early in life which is part fiction is having a dramatic impact on your present lifestyle how you think and live The assumption that all capable people in our culture have peace of mind and are satisfied with their life course is commonplace Is this notion true Not always In fact millions have fallen prey to a belief system that says appearance and status provide the golden road to love and respect In an attempt to perfect themselves they are hiding their self doubt through constant achievement at the cost of losing balance and well being Suffering from being overwhelmed emotionally and physically exhausted and fatigued often with the health complications of being overweight they have felt deeply disappointed The Curse of the Capable describes how a biased view of yourself can lead to a fragile sense of self addictive thinking and behavior and a seemingly mysterious downward spiral that the majority of people can't see or untangle Shortcuts to Success Jonathan Robinson,2000-01-01 Distilling the advice
