Uganda Examination Board Question Papers For Primary:

Education Inputs in Uganda Harriet Nannyonjo, 2007-01-01 This report is based on a study prompted by the need for improved effectiveness in the use of education resources in Uganda. Uganda's problem with increasing resource constraints for education is common in many developing countries and the lessons learned in this study may be of broad interest. Currently, Uganda allocates over 31 percent of its discretionary recurrent expenditure to education and 67 percent of this is allocated to primary education. Given increasing pressures on the budgets, there is a need to implement strategies focusing on those inputs most likely to improve student learning. A major impediment to rational decision making in this area is lack of knowledge about what interventions work best and under what circumstances. Without this knowledge, Government may continue spending scarce resources on inputs that may not directly contribute to student learning achievement.

Government Handbook 2006, Uganda Confidential, 2000 Government Handbook Uganda, 2005

Recollections of Uganda Under Milton Obote and Idi Amin Noel O'Cleirigh, 2004 In this book, the writer describes life in Uganda as seen through the eyes of an expatriate civil servant employed by the Ministry of Education. He gives the reader an insight into a newly independent country transforming its colonial-style education system through its Africanization policies, some of which he inaugurated and helped to implement. A former member of Professor George Eogan's Excavation Team at Knowth in the Boyne Valley, he continued his interest in this discipline while living in East Africa and presents vivid pen pictures of some of the archaeological field trips and surveys he carried out on behalf of the Department of Antiquities of the Uganda Museum. The book also deals with the history and tribal customs of the Baganda and Langi people as well as describing some of the memorable people encountered by the author: the veteran CMS Missionary Phebe Cave Brown, Cave Jacobo Obote, the father of Uganda's President Milton Obote, the saintly Archbishop Lwum, the formidable Mrs Enim, mother-in-law of the infamous Idi Amin. The events recounted by Noel O'Cleirigh throughout the pages of this book are set in East Africa amid a backdrop of President Obote's brand of African Socialism and General Idi Amin's Military Coup d'Etat and subsequent Reign of Terror. Government White Paper on Implementation of the Recommendations of the Report of the Education Policy Review Commission Entitled "Education for National Integration and Development".
