Uganda National Examination Board 201:

Going to School in Sub-Saharan Africa Jim Nesin Omatseye, Bridget Olijere Omatseye, 2008-02-28 Educational practices vary widely in sub Saharan Africa due to political instability economic pressures and availability of resources This volume examines the history educational philosophies and current practices of schools in the region including a special Day in the Life feature that shows readers what an average student s school day is like for that country All educational levels are covered from primary through secondary school and both public and private systems are examined Angola Cameroon Democratic Republic of Congo Ghana Ivory Coast Kenya Nigeria South Africa Tanzania Uganda Advancing the Ugandan Economy Ezra Sabiti Suruma, 2014-04-30 Internal conflicts dictatorship and economic disintegration characterized the first twenty five years of Uganda s independence from British colonial rule which culminated in the reign of Idi Amin and a violent civil war The country has since achieved an astounding turnaround of stability and growth Advancing the Ugandan Economy is a first hand look at the remarkable policy changes that took place from 1986 to 2012 and their effect in contrast with the turbulent events after independence Ezra Suruma held several key positions in the Ugandan government during the nation s transition period including minister of finance His insightful recounting of those times demonstrates that African countries can achieve economic stability and sustain rapid growth when they meet at least two interdependent conditions establishing a stable and secure political framework and unleashing entrepreneurialism Suruma also highlights the strategic areas that still require fundamental reform if Uganda is to become a modern state and shares his vision for the future of his country Rarely in African history has so much positive political and economic transformation of a country been achieved in such a short time Suruma s account of the commitment determination vision and dexterity of the Ugandan government holds invaluable lessons in managing the still complex policy challenges facing the African continent

The National Council for Higher Education and the Growth of the University Sub-sector in Uganda, 2002-2012 Kasozi, A.B.K., 2017-05-05 The National Council for Higher Education NCHE and the Growth of the University Sub sector in Uganda 2002 2012 narrates the experience of the Ugandan NCHE in the establishment development and regulation of higher education institutions in Uganda from 2002 to 2012 In this period student numbers in higher education institutions increased from about 65 000 to some 200 000 and university institutions from about ten to more than triple the number The book discusses the role of a regulatory agency in the delivery of higher education the relations of universities and colleges with such an agency its impact on developing university capacities and leadership in creating and refining higher education ideas The experience of Uganda s regulatory agency the NCHE in those ten years should help both the Ugandan and other African countries higher education stakeholders in sharing lessons learned from this one case study The author sees the roles of regulatory agencies as vital in the initial stages of building a higher education sub sector and in periods of system transitions such as the current journey from elite to mass systems but is of the view that the university remains the home of knowledge creation dissemination and its application in society The Bloomsbury Handbook of Prison Education Erin S. Corbett, 2024-10-03 Finalist PROSE Awards 2025 Education Theory and Practice Written by activists and scholars based in Australia Kenya Pakistan New Zealand South Africa Uganda and the USA The Bloomsbury Handbook of Prison Education offers the first global state of the field overview of research into educational practices and programs in prisons It covers the history of the field and puts forward future directions for research The range of topics covered include discussions of how gender race sexuality indigeneity age and faith impact incarceration rates around the world educational leadership STEM education creative writing programs distance learning abolition education after prison and education for correctional staff The book includes a Foreword by Donald Sawyer III Vice President of Diversity Inclusion and Belonging at Fairfield University USA At the Crossroads Florence Ebam Etta, Laurent Elder, 2005 Raises questions about information and communication technologies ICT and their implementation in four East African countries with particular focus on Kenya Covers the respective roles of the public and private sectors the applications of ICT in government education and in various economic sectors Concludes with recommendations for responsible policy making Pillars of the Nation Kristen E. Cheney, 2008-09-15 How can children simultaneously be the most important and least powerful people in a nation In her innovative ethnography of Ugandan children the pillars of tomorrow's Uganda according to the national youth anthem Kristen E Cheney answers this question by exploring the daily contradictions children face as they try to find their places amid the country's rapidly changing social conditions Drawing on the detailed life histories of several children Cheney shows that children and childhood are being redefined by the desires of a young country struggling to position itself in the international community She moves between urban schools music festivals and war zones to reveal how Ugandans are constructing childhood as an empowering identity for the development of the nation Moreover through her analysis of children's rights ideology national government strategy and children's everyday concerns Cheney also shows how these young citizens are vitally linked to the global political economy as they navigate the pitfalls and possibilities for a brighter tomorrow The Power of Babel Ali A. Mazrui, Alamin M. Mazrui, Alamin Mazrui, 1998-08-03 Linguists estimate that there are currently nearly 2 000 languages in Africa a staggering figure that is belied by the relatively few national languages While African national politics economics and law are all conducted primarily in the colonial languages the cultural life of the majority of citizens is conducted in a bewildering Babel of local and regional dialects making language itself the center of debates over multiculturalism gender studies and social theory In The Power of Babel the noted Africanist scholar Ali Mazrui and linguist Alamin Mazrui explore this vast territory of African language The Power of Babel is one of the first comprehensive studies of the complex linguistic constellations of Africa It draws on Ali Mazrui's earlier work in its examination of the triple heritage of African culture in which indigenous Islamic and Western traditions compete for influence In bringing the idea of the triple heritage to language the Mazruis unravel issues of power culture and modernity as they are embedded in African linguistic life The first section of the book takes a global perspective exploring such issues as the Eurocentrism of much linguistic scholarship on Africa part two takes an African perspective on a variety of issues from the linguistically disadvantaged position of women in Africa to the relation of language policy and democratic development the third section presents a set of regional studies centering on the Swahili language s exemplification of the triple heritage The Power of Babel unites empirical information with theories of nationalism and pluralism among others to offer the richest contextual account of African languages to date

Global Education Policy and International Development Antoni Verger, Hulya K. Altinyelken, Mario Novelli, 2013-03-28 Exploring the interplay between globalization education and international development this book surveys the impact of global education policies on local policy in developing countries With chapters written by leading international scholars drawing on a full range of theoretical perspectives and offering a diverse selection of case studies from Africa Asia and South America this book considers such topics as How are global education agendas and policies formed and implemented What is the impact of such policy priorities as public private partnerships child centred pedagogies and school based management What are the effects of political and economic globalization on educational reform and change How do mediating institutions affect the translation of global policies to particular educational contexts What are the limitations of globalised policy solutions and what problems do they encounter at local levels From students of education development and globalization to practitioners working in developing contexts this book is an important resource for those seeking to understand how global forces and local realities meet to shape education policy in the developing world

Coming of Age Kamau, Kiarie, Mitambo, Kirimi, 2016-05-03 The sixteen chapters in this book form a Festschrift in honour of Henry Chakava the distinguished Kenyan publisher With a Forward by Tanzanian publisher Walter Bgoya his long time collaborator in furthering the causes of independent African publishing the topics cover the full range of issues in which he has been central over more than forty years His notable achievements include the first local buy out of a British multinational publishing house being one of the founders of African Books Collective and the African Publishers Network and participation in international counsels such as the Bellagio Publishing Network Amongst the contributors are prominent Kenyan authors Ngugi wa Thiong o Simon Gikandi and Micere Githae Mugo Kenyan colleagues from the book trade world close collaborators in Uganda and Nigeria and some international colleagues The greatest range of the contributors are from within Africa There are subject specific chapters on such issues as training copyright publishing in the digital age and an overview of publishing at Codesria including the vexed issue of marginalisation of African language publishing

Oral Literature for Children Aaron Mushengyezi, 2013 This book is the first ever major effort to document and study hundreds of texts from an African Ugandan oral culture for children folktales riddles and rhymes and at the same time to make them available in the local Languages and to focus on their cultural and national value The author surveys the history of collecting in Uganda and situates the texts in their broader geographical historical socio cultural and educational

Setting including the early collecting efforts of heritage minded Ugandans and European missionaries Most of this preservational work is elusive and under explored so that the present book constitutes a major pioneering summary of Ugandan oral culture for children The book addresses key questions such as What happens when we collect transcribe and translate an oral text How do we transfer components of the oral text to the page What are the challenges of translating oral forms targeting specifically a child Audience and what choices ought to be made in the process The book provides possible ways of rethinking the debate about orality and literacy as modes of representation the generic interrelationship between the oral and the written text and how the two can enter dialogue through transcription and translation The latter are effective means to archive these oral forms for children and use them to promote literacy and numeracy skills in predominantly oral communities In the current institutions of formal education in Uganda this coexistence of orality and literacy is evident in the class room environment where the oral text is turned into words on the page to encourage literacy Through transcription the collector is able to capture oral texts in other forms audio written visual and digital With the new technologies available the task is not as arduous as in the past and the information thus captured is made available in all its wealth for purposes of instruction or entertainment The Power of Babel Ali Al'Amin Mazrui, Alamin M. Mazrui, 1998

Linguists estimate that there are currently nearly 2 000 languages in Africa a staggering figure that is belied by the relatively few national languages While African national politics economics and law are all conducted primarily in the colonial languages the cultural life of the majority of citizens is conducted in a bewildering Babel of local and regional dialects making language itself the center of debates over multiculturalism gender studies and social theory In The Power of Babel the noted Africanist scholar Ali Mazrui and linguist Alamin Mazrui explore this vast territory of African language The Power of Babel is one of the first comprehensive studies of the complex linguistic constellations of Africa It draws on Ali Mazrui's earlier work in its examination of the triple heritage of African culture in which indigenous Islamic and Western traditions compete for influence In bringing the idea of the triple heritage to language the Mazruis unravel issues of power culture and modernity as they are embedded in African linguistic life The first section of the book takes a global perspective exploring such issues as the Eurocentrism of much linguistic scholarship on Africa part two takes an African perspective on a variety of issues from the linguistically disadvantaged position of women in Africa to the relation of language policy and democratic development the third section presents a set of regional studies centering on the Swahili language's exemplification of the triple heritage The Power of Babel unites empirical information with theories of nationalism and pluralism among others to offer the richest contextual account of African languages to date Kampala Law Reports, 1999 Background to the
