HC 527 - The Armed Forces Covenant in Action Part 5: Military Casualties Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Defence Committee, 2014 Although Armed Forces personnel have a lower rate of criminal offending than the general population the rate for violent incidents is substantially higher particularly amongst those who have previously been deployed in combat roles and those who misuse alcohol The MoD needs to understand better the links between deployment alcohol misuse and violent behaviour especially domestic violence In particular there has been no research as to the incidence of domestic violence amongst Armed Forces personnel The Committee also found a shocking backlog in the processing of claims for War Pensions and for the Armed Forces Compensation Scheme The Committee is concerned that the demand for support from the Defence Recovery Capability already exceeds supply Veterans need more support navigating the overlapping bureaucracy of the health system Despite assurances from the MoD and the Department of Health the Committee is concerned that as operations in Afghanistan and Iraq fade from the public s mind and personnel move on to other lives the necessary long term support for those injured physically and psychologically will not be maintained The MoD in conjunction with the Health Service has introduced some measures to support veterans with mental health problems and amputees but other conditions also require this focus The MoD should monitor the results of its work and report the outcomes in its annual report on the Armed Forces Covenant

In Hard Times Manoj Joshi, Nishtha Gautam, Praveen Swami, 2022-11-28 Since the mid 1990s Indian thinking on national security has been based on the assumption that the country would progress on a growth trajectory sufficient to modernise its defence capacities and thereby enable some form of parity with a rising China The reality has been otherwise China s spectacular growth and accompanying military modernisation has hugely outpaced that of India while the Indian military modernisation has moved fitfully In the past several years budgets have committed less than 2 per cent of GDP the lowest levels since the war of 1962 for the military Even if spending were to rise to 3 per cent little funding would be available for modernisation after allowing for rising pensions salaries and other components of the budget Put simply the authors state India needs a national security strategy for hard times It would be a strategy grounded in reality India s priority has to be the raising of vast numbers of its people out of abject poverty even if the strategies of countries like China and the United States economically more developed can aim at being global powers In Hard Times is an important collection that highlights the major challenges India confronts and the ways they can be tackled especially in the light of the upheavals caused by the COVID 19 pandemic Its contributors include former military officers including Admiral Arun Prakash and Lt Gen D S Hooda whose views have helped shape discussions on strategy as well as commentators such as Dr Sanjaya Baru Experience tells us that in war it s often the smarter side that wins not the stronger one These essays point us in that direction
