Moreau, 2006-01-01 Pendant quatre décennies l'auteur médecin biologiste pasteurien luttera contre les grandes endémies tropicales en collaborant avec les autorités et les populations locales qu'il a toujours su estimer et dont il a toujours su se faire apprécier. Il affrontera des épidémies de fièvre jaune, de choléra, de dengue, de hémorragique et conduira des recherches dans les domaines de la parasitologie, l'arbovirologie et la rétrovirologie. Il sillonna l'Afrique de l'Ouest de Dakar au Togo et de Tombouctou à Cotonou et fut Président de l'Institut Pasteur de Nouméa et de Cayenne.

Decolonising Imperial Heroes Max Jones, Berny Sèbe, Bertrand Taithe, Peter Yeandle, 2017-10-02 The heroes of the British and French empires stood at the vanguard of the vibrant cultures of imperialism that emerged in Europe in the second half of the nineteenth century. Their stories are well known. Scholars have tended to assume that figures such as Livingstone and Gordon or Marchand and Brazza vanished rapidly at the end of empire. Yet imperial heroes did not disappear after 1945 as British and French flags were lowered around the world. On the contrary, their reputations underwent a variety of metamorphoses in both the former metropolises and the former colonies. This book develops a framework to understand the complex legacies of decolonisation, both political and cultural, through the case study of imperial heroes. We demonstrate that the decolonisation of imperial heroes was a much more complex and protracted process than the political retreat from empire and that it is still an ongoing phenomenon even half a century after the world has ceased to be painted in red. Whilst Decolonising Imperial Heroes explores the appeal of the explorers, humanitarians and missionaries whose stories could be told without reference to violence against colonized peoples, it also analyses the persistence of imperial heroes as sites of political dispute in the former metropolises. Demonstrating that the work of remembrance was increasingly carried out by diverse, fragmented groups of non-state actors in a process we call the privatisation of heroes, the book reveals the surprising rejuvenation of imperial heroes in former colonies, both in nation-building narratives and as heritage sites. This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Imperial and Commonwealth History.

The Colonial Politics of Global Health Jessica Lynne Pearson, 2018-09-10 Jessica Lynne Pearson explores the collision between imperial and international visions of health and development in French Africa as postwar decolonization movements gained strength. The consequences of putting politics above public health continue to play out in constraints placed on international health organizations half a century later.

The Story of the Pasteur Institute and Its Contributions to Global Health Marie-Hélène Marchand, 2019-01-15 Despite the fame surrounding the name of Louis Pasteur, few people know what exactly occurs at the institute he founded in 1887. Scientific breakthroughs made by pioneers of microbiology, the emergence of molecular biology and genomics, and the identification of HIV-1 in 1983 have kept the Pasteur Institute at the forefront of the fight against infectious diseases. This prestigious private foundation has upheld the vision of its founder, creating a Pasteurian community worldwide with 33

Pasteur Institutes on five continents and supported by both famous and unknown donors throughout the world This book presents the fascinating story of an institution which had enormous influence on both British and American science and medicine It offers detailed and personal insights into the Pasteur Institute where lively personalities and outsized passions give birth to excitement and the triumph of world class research
