Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 Maringe, Felix, Prew, Martin, 2015-05-05
Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 An Independent Review presents a collection of 15 important essays on different aspects of education in Gauteng since the advent of democracy in 1994 These essays talk to what a provincial education department does and how and why it does these things whether it be about policy resourcing or implementing projects Each essay is written by one or more specialist in the relevant focus area The book is written to be accessible to the general reader as well as being informative and an essential resource for the specialist reader It sheds light on aspects of how a provincial department operates and why and with what consequences certain decisions have been made in education over the last 20 turbulent years both nationally and provincially There has been no attempt to fit the book's chapters into a particular ideological or educational paradigm and as a result the reader will find differing views on various aspects of the Gauteng Department of Education's present and past We leave the reader to decide to what extent the GDE has fulfilled its educational mandate over the last 20 years Bicycle Justice and Urban Transformation Aaron Golub, Melody L. Hoffmann, Adonia E. Lugo, Gerardo F. Sandoval, 2016-07-15 As bicycle commuting grows in the United States the profile of the white middle class cyclist has emerged This stereotype evolves just as investments in cycling play an increasingly important role in neighborhood transformations However despite stereotypes the cycling public is actually quite diverse with the greatest share falling into the lowest income categories Bicycle Justice and Urban Transformation demonstrates that for those with privilege bicycling can be liberatory a lifestyle choice whereas for those surviving at the margins cycling is not a choice but an often oppressive necessity Ignoring these invisible cyclists skews bicycle improvements towards those with choices This book argues that it is vital to contextualize bicycling within a broader social justice framework if investments are to serve all street users equitably Bicycle justice is an inclusionary social movement based on furthering material equity and the recognition that qualitative differences matter This book illustrates equitable bicycle advocacy policy and planning In synthesizing the projects of critical cultural studies transportation justice and planning the book reveals the relevance of social justice to public and community driven investments in cycling This book will interest professionals advocates academics and students in the fields of transportation planning urban planning community development urban geography sociology and policy Minerals Yearbook, 2013 Minerals Yearbook Geological Survey, Interior Department, Mines Bureau, 2019-01-31 This volume covering metals and minerals contains chapters on approximately 90 commodities In addition this volume has chapters on mining and quarrying trends and on statistical surveying methods used by Minerals Information plus a statistical summary The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Imperialism and Anti-Imperialism Immanuel Ness, Zak Cope, 2016-04-29 The Palgrave Encyclopedia Imperialism and Anti Imperialism objectively presents the prominent themes epochal events theoretical explanations and historical accounts of imperialism from 1776 to the present It is the most Commodification of Global Agrifood Systems and Agro-Ecology Yıldız Atasoy, 2017-05-18 This book explores the shifting relations of food provisioning in Turkey from a comparative global political economy perspective. It offers in depth ethnographic analysis, interviews and historical insights into the ambiguities and diversities that simultaneously affect the changing conditions of food and agriculture in Turkey. Specific issues examined include the commodification of land, food and labour, the expansion and deepening of industrial standardization, the expansion of a supermarket model and concomitant changes in as well as the simultaneous co-existence of traditional methods of production and marketing. Contrasting observations are drawn from diverse locales to provide examples of convergence, divergence and cohabitation in relation to transnationally advocated industrial models. Commodification of Global Agrifood Systems and Agro Ecology employs a form of comparative perspective that allows the particular processes of restructuring of agrifood relations in Turkey to be simultaneously distinguished from yet related to changes taking place in global power dynamics. Yıldız Atasoy explores agrifood transformation in Turkey with a unique approach that considers a plurality of intertwined normative influences: ontological beliefs, cultural, religious, narratives, political struggles and critical interpretive positions. Based on original research, the book treats changes in food provisioning as an analytical thread capable of uncovering how the normative acceptability of capitalized agriculture and techno-scientific innovation is entangled with processes of class formation, growing inter-capitalist competition and Islamic politics. Such processes in turn frame income, wealth, generation, landscape, management, agro-ecological dynamics and labour practices, as well as the taste and smell of place.

America's Textile Reporter, 1905

1989 and the West Eleni Braat, Pepijn Corduwener, 2019-07-15 Back in 1989 many anticipated that the end of the Cold War would usher in the end of history, characterized by the victory of democracy and capitalism. At the thirtieth anniversary of this momentous event, this book challenges this assumption. It studies the most recent era of contemporary European history in order to analyse the impact, consequences and legacy of the end of the Cold War for Western Europe. Bringing together leading scholars on the topic, the volume answers the question of how the end of the Cold War has affected Western Europe and reveals how it accelerated and reinforced processes that shaped the fragile geo-political and economic order of the continent today. In four thematic sections, the book analyses the changing position of Germany in Europe, studies the transformation of neoliberal capitalism, answers the question how Western Europe faced the geopolitical challenges after the Berlin Wall came down and investigates the crisis of representative democracy. As such, the book provides a comprehensive and novel historical perspective on Europe since the late 1980s.

Closing Sysco Lachlan MacKinnon, 2020-02-24 Closing Sysco presents a history of deindustrialization and working class resistance in the Cape Breton steel industry between 1945 and 2001. The Sydney Steel Works is at the heart of this story, having existed in tandem with Cape Breton's larger coal operations since the early twentieth century. The book explores the multifaceted nature of deindustrialization, the internal politics of the steelworkers union, the successful efforts to nationalize the mill in 1967 the years in transition under public ownership and the confrontations over health safety and environmental degradation in the 1990s and 2000s Closing Sysco moves beyond the moment of closure to trace the cultural historical and political ramifications of deindustrialization that continue to play out in post industrial Cape Breton Island A significant intervention into the international literature on deindustrialization this study pushes scholarship beyond the bounds of political economy and cultural change to begin tackling issues of bodily health environment and historical memory in post industrial places The experiences of the men and women who were displaced by the decline and closure of Sydney Steel are central to this book Featuring interviews with former steelworkers office employees managers politicians and community activists these one on one conversations reveal both the human cost of industrial closure and the lingering after effects of deindustrialization

West/Border/Road Katherine Ann Roberts, 2018-04-18 The North American entertainment industry is rapidly consolidating and new modes of technological delivery challenge Canadian content regulations An understanding of how Canadian culture negotiates its rapport with American genres has never been more timely West Border Road offers an interdisciplinary analysis of contemporary Canadian manifestations of three American genres the western the border and the road It situates close readings of literary film and television narratives from both English Canada and Quebec within a larger context of Canadian generic borrowing and innovation Katherine Ann Roberts calls upon canonical works in Canadian studies theories of genre and a wide range of scholarship from border studies cultural studies and film studies to examine how genre is appropriated and sometimes reworked and how these cultural narratives engage with discourses of contemporary

Canadian nationhood The author elucidates Guy Vanderhaeghe's rewriting of the codes of the historical western to include the trauma of Aboriginal peoples Aritha van Herk's playful spoof on American western iconography the politics and perils of the representation of the Canada US border in CBC produced crime television and how the road genre inspires and constrains the Qu b cois and Canadian road movie A reminder of the power and limitations of American genres West Border Road provides a nuanced perspective on Canadian engagement with cultural forms that may be imported but never foreign

American Empire and the Canadian Oil Sands George A. Gonzalez, 2016-04-08 Throughout the US oil and gas shale are being hydrofracked to produce petroleum and natural gas Oil or tar sands from Canada is being processed thereby generating large amounts of crude This book places the unconventional fossil fuels revolution that is taking place in North America within the context of great power politics Cricket and Society in South Africa, 1910-1971 Bruce Murray, Richard Parry, Jonty Winch, 2018-09-01 This book explores how cricket in South Africa was shaped by society and society by cricket It demonstrates the centrality of cricket in the evolving relationship between culture sport and politics starting with South Africa as the beating heart of the imperial project and ending with the country as an international pariah The contributors explore the tensions between fragmentation and unity on and off the pitch in the context of the racist ideology of empire its arrested development and the reliance of South Africa on a racially based exploitative labour system This edited collection uncovers the hidden history of cricket society and empire in defining a multiplicity of South African identities and recognises the achievements of forgotten players and their impact The Land Is Sung Thomas M. Pooley, 2023-10-17 What does it mean to belong In The Land Is Sung musicologist Thomas M Pooley shows how performances of song dance and praise poetry connect Zulu communities to their ancestral homes and genealogies For those without land tenure in the province of KwaZulu Natal performances articulate a sense of place Migrants express their allegiances through performance and spiritual relationships to land are embodied in rituals that invoke ancestral connection while advancing well being through intergenerational communication Engaging with justice and environmental ethics education and indigenous knowledge systems musical and linguistic analysis and the ethics of recording practice Pooley's analysis draws on genres of music and dance recorded in the midlands and borderlands of South Africa and in Johannesburg's inner city His detailed sound writing captures the visceral experiences of performances in everyday life The book is richly illustrated and there is a companion website featuring both video and audio examples Bradstreet's, 1915 Fight and Flight Georgia Burdett, Sarah Morse, 2020-02-01 There is no published collected criticism on Ron Berry This is a unique selling point Berry did not receive the critical acclaim he deserved in his lifetime This is the first attempt to address this apparent neglect Berry's work is hugely relevant to the study of modern Wales as it straddles the industrial and post industrial period His environmental writings and concerns were so progressive that they were perhaps wasted upon his original readership Oregon Historical Quarterly Oregon Historical Society, 2014 The Great Eagles Michael O'Neal Campbell, 2022-05-18 This book examines the current literature and knowledge on the evolution and ecology of all the birds named as eagles with particular emphasis on the larger species. It also examines the past and current relations between eagles and people including habitat change and conservation issues. Eagle ecologies and conservation are currently seriously impacted by human activities such as industrialization, urbanization, pollution, deforestation, and hunting. Some eagle species have consequently experienced extreme population changes. There are, however, some positive developments. Eagles have a strong historic bond with human civilization due to their status as the world's most charismatic birds. Conservation policies have also been successful in repopulating some ecosystems with breeding eagles. Therefore, despite the complexity of this relationship, there may yet be hope for this unique species group frequently rated as the kings of birds and symbolic of human power, ambition, royalty, nationality, and even concepts of God. It is hoped that this book will contribute to the further understanding of these unique and fantastic birds.

At the Wilderness Edge J.I. Little, 2019-02-28 Vancouver prides itself on being a green city and the west coast is known for its active environmental protest culture. But the roots of this mentality reach far beyond the founding of organizations such as Greenpeace. Small campaigns led by local community groups from the 1960s onward left a lasting impact on the region. At the Wilderness Edge examines five antidevelopment campaigns in and around Vancouver that reflected a dramatic decline in public support for large-scale commercial and industrial projects. J.I. Little describes the highly effective protests that were instrumental in preserving threatened green spaces on Coal Harbour, Hollyburn Ridge, Bowen Island, Gambier Island, and the Squamish estuary, keeping these important British Columbia landmarks from becoming a high-rise development project, a downhill ski resort, a suburban housing tract, an open-pit copper mine, and a major coal port, respectively. Through detailed analysis of development proposals and protests, government studies, and community responses, Little argues that it was not the usual suspects—1960s radicalism and anti-establishment youth culture—that initiated and carried out these protests, but rather middle-aged middle-class politically engaged citizens, many of whom were women. An engaging study of grassroots politics in action, At the Wilderness Edge sheds new light on the rise of environmental consciousness, a pivotal era in the history of British Columbia, the Pacific Northwest, and Canada.

Mining Country John Sandlos, Arn Keeling, 2021-09-07 Mining has had a significant presence in every part of Canada, from the east to west coasts to the far north. This book tells the stories of those who built Canada's mining industry. It highlights the experiences of the people who lived and worked in mining towns, across the country, the rise of major mining companies, and the emergence of Toronto and Vancouver as centres of global mining finance. It also addresses the devastating effects mining has had on Indigenous communities and their land, and documents several high-profile resistance efforts. Mining Country presents fascinating snapshots of Canadian mining past and present, from pre-contact Indigenous copper mining and trading networks to the famous Cariboo and Klondike Gold Rushes. Generously illustrated with more than 150 visuals drawn from every period of mining history, this book offers a thorough account of the story behind the industry.
