New EU criteria for endocrine disruptors Nordic

Council of Ministers,2018-08-30 Endocrine disruptors EDs are substances that adversely affect hormone function The effects by EDs are thought to depend on both dose and timing of exposure especially during foetal development The upcoming EU regulation on identification of EDs application biocides and pesticides will have an impact on all actors of the food chain The consequences of a ban of EDs in foods were discussed in a Nordic workshop Uppsala 29 30 Nov 2016 where risk assessors and managers from Nordic food authorities industry trade associations consumer organizations and researchers were represented It was recognized by all participants that a ban was particularly challenging for the production chain since there are few viable alternatives A harmonized EU legislation based on scientific risk assessment was preferred compared to national specific legislation as it treats all the actors equally

Fungicide Resistance in Plant Pathogens Hideo Ishii,Derek William Hollomon,2015-08-31 This volume offers a comprehensive coverage of the general principles and recent advances in fungicide resistance It describes the development mechanisms monitoring and management of resistance and covers the most important group of fungicides that have caused resistance on various crops An historical review of fungicide resistance over the past 40 years sets the scene for up to date basic information on mode of action as well as the genetics mechanisms and evolution of resistance Monitoring for resistance including the latest developments in molecular diagnostics moves readers into the practical aspects of resistance management which is dealt with through a series of case studies outlining fungicide use strategies on several key crops. The chapters reflect the experience of authors internationally recognised for their significant contributions to fungicide resistance research. The majority of crop diseases are caused by fungal pathogens and disease control relies heavily on chemically synthesized fungicides. However, modern fungicides often encounter the problem of resistance development in target pathogens. Thus, pathogen resistance to fungicides is an important factor that causes loss of yield and quality of crops. It often threatens biosecurity through the decrease of fungicide efficacy in the fields. To manage fungicide resistance successfully will require the promotion of integrated disease management involving not just chemical fungicides but also host plant resistance, agronomic factors and reliable biological control agents where these are available. Well referenced throughout, the book offers a comprehensive account of resistance which will be useful as a source of material for lecturers and for both industrial and academic scientists involved in fungicide resistance research. It is also a valuable sourcebook for students.

Crop Production and Global Environmental Issues Khalid Rehman Hakeem, 2015-12-08. Meeting the world's food security challenge will require a multi-national collaborative effort to integrate the best research from science, engineering and socioeconomics so that technological advances can bring benefits where they are most needed. The present book covers the effect of major environmental problems on crop production and how to cope with these issues for sustainable agriculture and improvements of crops. The world's population is predicted to hit 9.6 Billion by 2050 up from today's total of nearly 7.3 Billion and with it food demand is predicted to increase substantially. The post-war second agricultural revolution in developed countries and the green revolution in developing nations in the mid 1960s converted agricultural practices and elevated crop yields spectacularly but the outcome is levelling off and will not meet projected demand. Simultaneously, crop production is affected by many other factors including industrial pollution, overuse of fertilizers and insecticides, heavy metal and radiation stresses etc. It has been noted that many pests are becoming resistant to insecticides. Estimates vary but around 25% of crops can be lost to pests and diseases. Climate change associated with agriculture is also a global issue. Agriculture is a significant contributor to greenhouse gases and is estimated to account for 10-12% of total greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. Many of the issues highlighted are global problems and are addressed thoroughly in this work.
