Humor and Laughter, Playfulness and Cheerfulness: Upsides and Downsides to a Life of Lightness Willibald Ruch, Tracey Platt, René T. Proyer, Hsueh-Chih Chen, 2019-08-12 The emergence of Positive Psychology has highlighted the importance of studying the good life and how to attain it Positive life outcomes such as well being thriving flourishing and happiness were discussed and investigated Among them different orientations to happiness were identified such as a life of pleasure life of meaning and life of engagement Other outcomes such as subjective and objective fulfillment in life or societal recognition have been less studied Among the characteristics that facilitate positive outcomes the VIA classification of strength and virtues distinguishes 24 strengths with humor playfulness being one of them Only a small segment of humor entered the definition of humor as character strengths namely the parts that contain some goodness Humor as a character strength facilitates a lot of positive outcomes such as positive emotions and positive relationships and there is a lightness accompanying humor playfulness The field is broader though and transcends the definition of humor as used in positive psychology in at least two ways First there is actually a family of overlapping but still distinct concepts with different research traditions We include next to humor and types of humor also laughter playfulness and cheerfulness We think that more research is needed on how they do overlap and what makes them distinct Second while positive psychology is interested in the goodness of we do want to stress that there is the need to study the non virtuous parts as well That is laughter may not only be expressing amusement but scorn directed at people humor may be benevolent but there is also sarcasm and playfulness may elicit positive emotions but also risk prone and immature types of behavior Therefore the aim of this Research Topic was to collect current perspectives on humor playfulness laughter and cheerfulness in both adults and children to study their full diversity but also interrelations and overlapping features to introduce new instruments or ways for their assessment in future studies and to study their causes and consequences in a variety of life domains We encouraged studies on differences due to gender or nationality the embodiment in different groups e g class clowns psychiatric patients or whether or not they can be trained We also welcomed contributions from adjacent disciplines e g education leisure studies or therapy counseling and different regions of the earth The outcome is a set of 33 manuscripts from altogether 101 authors Not all areas are covered and not all aims were met while we made progress there is much left to do In this sense the merging of these topics may be the first milestone but like every milestone it only marks the beginning of a long journey

Divine Holiness and Divine Action Mark C. Murphy, 2021-02-18 Holiness is the attribute most emphatically ascribed to God in Scripture but there has been little attention devoted to characterizing and considering the entailments of divine holiness In Divine Holiness and Divine Action Mark C Murphy defends an account of holiness indebted to Rudolf Otto's description of the experience of the holy as that of a mysterium tremendum et fascinans God's being holy consists in God's being someone with whom intimate union is both extremely desirable for us and yet something for which we and indeed any limited beings are unfit This notion of divine holiness is useful for addressing disputed theological questions regarding divine action In contrast to standard accounts of divine action that begin with assumptions regarding God's moral perfection or God's maximal love the appeal to divine holiness supports a rival framework for explaining and predicting divine action the holiness framework according to which God is motivated to act in ways that are a response to God's own value by keeping distance from that which is deficient defective or in any way limited in goodness This study exhibits the fruitfulness of a reorientation from the morality and love frameworks to the holiness framework by showing how such a reorientation suggests distinct approaches to perennial problems of divine action regarding creation incarnation atonement and salvation From the treatment of these perennial problems a general theme regarding divine action emerges that God's interaction with the world exhibits a radical sort of humility
