The New Review, 1890 The Sons of the Wind D. M. Dooling, James R. Walker, 2000 A presentation of Lakota creation mythology taken from material originally collected and transcribed by James R Walker offers reflections on Lakota celebrations of the spirit Son of the Morning Mark Alder, 2016-02-15 England 1337 Edward III is beset on all sides He needs a victory against the French to rescue his throne but he's outmanned King Philip VI can put 50 000 men in the field but he is having his own problems he has sent his priests to summon the angels themselves to fight for France but the angels refuse to fight and Philip won't engage the battle without the backing of the angels As England and France head toward certain war Edward yearns for God's favor but as a usurper can't help but worry what if God truly is on the side of the French Edward could call on Lucifer and open the gates of Hell and take an unholy war to France for a price Mark Adler breathes fresh and imaginative life into the Hundred Years War in this sweeping historical epic Figures in the Shadows Bart Huelsenbeck, 2018-06-11 The collection of the elder Seneca assembles quotations from scores of declaimers over a period spanning sixty years from the Augustan Age through the early decades of the empire A view is offered onto a literary scene for this critical period of Roman letters that is numerously populated highly interactive and less dominated by just a few canonical authors Despite this potential modern readings have often lumped declaimers together en masse and organizational principles basic to Seneca's collection remain overlooked This volume attempts to hear the individual speech of declaimers by focusing on two speakers Arellius Fuscus rhetor to Ovid and Papirius Fabianus teacher of the younger Seneca A key organizing principle informing both the collection and the practice of declamation was the shared locus a short passage defined by verbal and argumentative ingredients that gained currency among declaimers Study of the operation of the shared locus carries several advantages 1 we appreciate distinctions between declaimers 2 we recognize shared passages as a medium of communication and 3 the shared locus emerges as a community resource explaining deep seated connections between declamation and literary works Bones of the Night Elvio René, 2012-11-13 Matthew an apostle of Jesus relates a first person account of what transpired on Thursday the fourteenth day of Nisan as well as the agonizing events of Friday the fifteenth in Jerusalem Nisan is the first month of the Jewish year it is when the meadows turn green once again and when Passover is celebrated It is the month when barley and flax are harvested Matthew through a powerful recreation of events describes that atmosphere that surrounded the Master and his disciples starting with Sunday the tenth day of Nisan when Jerusalem's joyful inhabitants proclaimed Jesus the Messiah The novel offers a minutely detailed description of first century Jerusalem's temple huge and overpowering the commerce that was carried out behind its walls its ideologically divided citizenry and the totally insurmountable customs of the ruling class the priests who forced the outcome on that Friday These are the dramatic hours during which the judgment of Jesus is reproduced as well as the efforts of Herod and Pontius Pilate to rid themselves of the responsibility of having to condemn the Savior and his merciless torture and execution The human nature of what transpires in this book enters the readers mind during the scenes of the apostles at the Passover supper The supper is depicted as an astonishing event in a way that is different from what art and legend has instilled in us over the course of many centuries The reader will become familiar with Genesareth Lake the Mount of Olives diverse forest the pain experienced in the garden of Gethsemane the harsh torture at Golgotha and Samarias dusty roads realizing just how terrifying that Thursday night in Jerusalem shrouded in shadows was as the patrols carried out their search for Jesus
