Capacity Building for Maritime Security Christian Bueger, Timothy Edmunds, Robert McCabe, 2020-10-09 This book studies recent attempts to restructure maritime security sectors through capacity building. It innovates both theoretically and empirically. It proposes a new framework for understanding maritime capacity building drawing on work in peacebuilding and security sector reform. The framework is then applied across empirical case studies from the Western Indian Ocean WIO region written by scholars from the Global South. The WIO region is a paradigmatic case to study maritime security and capacity building in action. Countries in the region face the full gamut of maritime security challenges while their indigenous capacities to deal with these are often weak. In consequence the region functions as an engine of innovation for maritime capacity building more widely. The lessons and best practices from the region have importance consequences for addressing maritime security across the globe.

Seaforth World Naval Review 2015 Conrad Waters, 2014-11-05 Now in its seventh year this annual has established an international reputation as an authoritative but affordable summary of all that has happened in the naval world in the previous twelve months. It combines regional surveys with one off major articles on noteworthy new ships and other important developments. Besides the latest warship projects it also looks at wider issues of importance to navies such as aviation and electronics and calls on expertise from around the globe to give a balanced picture of what is going on and to interpret its significance. The 2015 edition looks in detail at the French Navy and the Bangladesh and Myanmar navies while significant ships include the Montford Point class mobile landing platforms the Samuel Becket offshore patrol vessels and the Skjold class fast attack craft. There are technological reviews dealing with naval aviation by David Hobbs and current mine warfare developments by Norman Friedman while warship recycling is discussed by Ian Buxton. Intended to make interesting reading as well as providing authoritative reference there is a strong visual emphasis including specially commissioned drawings and the most up to date photographs and artists impressions. For anyone with an interest in contemporary naval affairs whether an enthusiast or a defence professional this annual has become required reading.

Oceanic Strategy Vidhan Pathak, Raghvendra Kumar, 2024-12-03 This book introduces the concept of oceanic strategy expanding beyond traditional maritime and naval perspectives to include political economic socio cultural and ecological dimensions. It highlights the Indian Ocean Region as a critical arena for global power competition where the abundance of resources strategic significance and emerging interests have made it a new frontier for opportunity growth and conflict. By incorporating aspects like oceanic security resource exploration the blue economy and hydrography the book presents a broader view of strategic thought and the role of oceanic spaces in national and global geopolitics Focusing on key players such as India China the US and other traditional and emerging powers the book analyses the reorientation of national interests and the intensifying struggle for dominance in the Indian Ocean It argues that control over this region is crucial for attaining influence in 21st century geopolitics The work also addresses non traditional security threats like piracy and transnational crime situating the Indian Ocean at the heart of modern geopolitical discourse This book is an essential resource for students and scholars of international relations strategic studies and political science offering critical insights into the evolving power dynamics shaping the future of the Indian Ocean Region South African Digest ,1967 Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972, Rules Promulgation and Proposed Issuance of Permits to Commercial Fishermen ,1974

Shaping the Future of Power Lina Benabdallah, 2020-07-20 China's rise to power is one of the biggest questions in International Relations theory IRT and foreign policy circles Although power has been a core concept of IRT for a long time the faces and mechanisms of power as it relates to Chinese foreign policymaking has changed the contours of that debate The rise of China and other powers across the global political arena sparks a new visibility for different kinds of encounters between states particularly between China and other Global South states These encounters are more visible to IR scholars because of the increasing influence that rising powers have in the international system This book shows that foreign policy encounters between rising powers and Global South states do not necessarily exhibit the same logics behaviors or investment strategies of Euro American hegemons Instead they have distinctive features that require new theoretical frameworks for analysis Shaping the Future of Power probes the types of power mechanisms that build diffuse and project China's power in Africa One must take into account the processes of knowledge production social capital formation and skills transfers that Chinese foreign policy directs toward African states to fully understand China's power building mechanisms The relational power framework requires these elements to capture both the material aspects and ideational people centered aspects to power By examining China's investments in human resource development programs for Africa the book reveals a vital yet undertheorized aspect of China's foreign policy making

A Postcard History of the Passenger Liner Christopher Deakes, 2023-10-01 From around 1880 for almost a hundred years shipowners commissioned a wealth of paintings that depicted their magnificent liners as well as the routes they travelled their exotic destinations and life onboard These paintings rich in imagination and atmosphere appeared on postcards and posters of the day and were used to advertise the companies and their ships and so was born a whole genre that produced tens of thousands of paintings which formed a wonderful record of the great era of the passenger liner In 1900 there were over thirty shipping companies operating passenger liners across the North Atlantic Other oceans were similarly served But now with just a few exceptions the companies and their liners have disappeared along with the art they once inspired Little remains to recall this aspect of our maritime past except the postcards and they tell an evocative story of the vanished world of elegant ships and leisurely travel of social and political times much changed by the history of the past century Here brought vividly to life in more than 500 colourful postcards are the ships on which so many of our predecessors sailed as emigrants soldiers administrators or simply as tourists in days long past These cards which are now highly collectable show how steamships developed over the years but they are also a fine tribute to the artists who painted them This volume also includes a glossary of some 170 illustrators which forms an important reference section and advice on collecting
