Leadership in Higher Education collection brought together by Mary Drinkwater      Impact of Global University Ranking Systems on Developing Countries Onyancha, Omwoyo Bosire, Tella, Adeyinka, 2023-06-01 The emotive discourses on the subject of university rankings are directly linked to the effect of such rankings on the performance of universities throughout the world. It has been observed that the top ranked universities attract major financial commitments from the industry, the best students, quality researchers and a wide range of other quality endowments such as equipment, libraries and laboratories. It is not surprising that the ranking of universities has gained popularity and become a significant factor shaping not only the reputation of universities but also the performance of said institutions around the world, including the developing countries. Impact of Global University Ranking Systems on Developing Countries presents a collection of perspectives from scholars and other stakeholders on the impact of the global ranking systems on developing countries. The book is an additional resource for discussion and discourse as far as the global university ranking systems are concerned and opens new frontiers for further research. Covering key topics such as assessment, ethics and academic freedom, this premier reference source is ideal for administrators, policymakers, researchers, scholars, academicians, practitioners, instructors and students.

Responsibility of Higher Education Systems, 2020-06-29 The evolving societal, political and economic landscape has led to increased demands on higher education institutions to make their contribution and benefits to society more visible and in many cases with fewer public resources. This book contributes to the understanding of the responsibilities of Higher Education and the challenges posed to the production and circulation of knowledge. It raises questions about the role of higher education in society, its responsibility towards students and staff and regarding its intended impact. The book brings together a range of topical papers and a diversity of perspectives: scientific investigations of reputed scholars, critical evidence-based papers of third space professionals and policymakers, perspectives on the daily practice and management of higher education institutions and systems. The variety of both content and contributors elevates the richness of the book and its relevance for a large audience. Contributors are Victor M. H. Borden, Lex Borghans, Bruno Broucker, Hamish Coates, Gwilym Croucher, Lisa Davidson, Mark Engberg, Philipp Friedrich, Martina Gaisch, Solomon Gebreyohans, Gebru Ton Kallenberg, Kathi A. Internal migration and development planning in South Africa (Dr) Ilse Eigelaar-Meets, 2025-02-19 This scholarly book aims to illustrate the importance of incorporating internal migration data into development planning initiatives and processes to gain insight into both short and long term social changes. This publication draws on census data pertaining to internal migration flows in the Northern Cape and Western Cape provinces of South Africa. The author analyses, compares and presents data across three post-apartheid periods: 1996-2001, 2001-2006 and 2006-2011 to illustrate how current forces drive and direct migration flows and how this impacts the social dynamics within the two provinces. This book highlights three significant shifts when comparing the two provinces pre and post 1994 internal migration trends First it examines the change in the political context framing mobility Second it explores the change in the types of internal migration flows sustaining urbanisation Third and lastly it analyses the changing profile of mobile migrants in the Northern Cape and Western Cape Internal migration and development planning in South Africa makes a compelling case for a strategic and coordinated approach by governments by demonstrating the influence of political and economic forces on internal migration flows and their impact on community social dynamics Such an approach is essential to address the increasing developmental constraints and challenges posed by internal migration in post apartheid South Africa

Enhancing the Freedom to Flourish in Higher Education Talita M. L. Calitz, 2018-08-06 Persistent educational economic and social inequalities perpetuate unequal participation in higher education for a significant number of students in both developing and developed contexts offering these students fewer opportunities to convert academic resources into equal participation. Enhancing the Freedom to Flourish in Higher Education explores the insight that student narratives can offer to the debate surrounding the complex reasons of why some students flourish at university while others are marginalised socially and academically. Proposing a new model of equal participation that draws not only on international comparisons but is also embedded in the experiences of students, the book offers practical suggestions on how to enhance opportunities for equal participation. Using South Africa as a case study, the book tracks the experiences of eight undergraduate students whose narratives illuminate the structural inequalities affecting participation in higher education. Despite the political, economic and academic factors that lead to diminished participation, the book foregrounds the resources that students used to negotiate obstacles and grounds these individual narratives in broader global debates around justice, widening participation and equality in higher education. Enhancing the Freedom to Flourish in Higher Education brings critical social theory to the problem of unequal participation so as to challenge the invisible and implicit forms of inequality found within student narratives. It will appeal to lecturers and tutors, practitioners based in student affairs and policy makers as well as postgraduate students.

The Responsive University and the Crisis in South Africa, 2021-05-31. Around the world, higher education is faced with a fundamental question: what is the basis for our claim of societal legitimacy? In this book, the authors go beyond the classical response regarding teaching, research and community engagement. Instead, the editor puts forward the proposition that the answer lies in responsiveness: the extent to which universities respond or fail to respond to societal challenges. Moreover, because of its intractable legacy issues and crisis of inequality, the question regarding the societal legitimacy of universities is particularly clearly manifested in South Africa, one of the most unequal countries in the world. The Responsive University brings together contributions on the issue of responsiveness from a number of international university leaders, half of them specifically addressing the South African situation within the context of the international situation as presented by the other authors. In the global discussion about the role of universities in society, this book provides a conceptual framework for a way forward.

The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of Africa. R. Sooryamoorthy, Nene Ernest Khalema, 2023. The Oxford Handbook of the Sociology of Africa presents a comparative analysis of sociological thinking in Africa. Focusing on examples from Africa, this diverse collection presents to a broad readership an accessible, comprehensive, up-to-date and topical analysis of sociological thinking in Africa. Sociological discourse about African societies has been challenging and difficult due to a lack of both comprehensive analyses and holistic sociological evidence that covers Africa from past to present. This Handbook locates African sociological thinking in historical context and takes a critical look at its current manifestations across the continent.

Discourse, Media, and Conflict. Innocent Chiluba, 2022-04-28. Bringing together contributions from a team of international scholars, this pioneering book applies theories and approaches from linguistics such as discourse analysis and pragmatics to analyse the media and online political discourses of both conflict and peace processes By analysing case studies as globally diverse as Germany the USA Nigeria Iraq Korea and Libya and across a range of genres such as TV news channels online reporting and traditional newspapers the chapters collectively show how news discourse can be powerful in mobilizing public support for war or violence or for conflict resolution through the linguistic representation of certain groups It explores the consequences of this framing effect and shows how peace journalism can be achieved through a non violent approach to reporting conflict It will therefore serve as an essential resource for students scholars and experts in media and communication studies conflict and peace studies international relations linguistics and political science
