Branson, Maureen Marra, Margaret Franken, Dawn Penney,2018-04-05 There is an abundance of research saying that not only is leadership in higher education ineffective but also that it actually undermines the essential work that should be happening in universities Christopher M Branson Maureen Marra Margaret Franken and Dawn Penney provide a new insight into leadership that has proven to be far more effective for all involved the transrelational approach to leadership This new way of leading places an emphasis on the importance of the relationships that the leader develops with each and every person they are leading However in order to apply this new way of leading higher education institutions must change some of the key ways they work This book provides direction in how this can happen what benefits would result and offers a view on what the future for higher education might be if such changes to leadership are not made Leadership in Higher Education from a Transrelational Perspective both critiques the likely implications of adopting this transrelational form of leadership into a higher educational institution and discusses the implications of not doing so Although a transrelational approach to leadership might seem daunting for higher education institutions to adopt is there any other choice The authors argue that it is inconceivable for institutions founded upon promoting human development as a consequence of research to ignore such research that not only questions the suitability of current leadership practices but also offers a more effective alternative

Entrepreneurial Strategies of Professional Service Firms Andreas B. Günther, 2019-02-19 Over the past years knowledge intensive industries have gained significant importance as economic factor giving rise to professional service firms PSFs such as law firms accounting firms or consultancies Following this development the research interest especially in the strategies pursued by PSFs has grown substantially However past research focused mainly on strategies of established mature PSFs leaving academics as well as potential entrepreneurs without guidance on what newly founded entrepreneurial PSFs should pay attention to in order to ensure lasting competitive advantages Based on an explorative grounded theory analysis of two outstanding commercial law firm spin offs in Germany this work advances the research in this field In addition to a detailed case study report it offers a comprehensive theoretical framework and argues that PSFs have to employ a set of seven specific entrepreneurial strategies including for example servicedelivery people development and client acquisition strategies in order to successfully manage the entrepreneurial phase In providing examples for the growing PSF industry the findings on commercial law firm spin offs also inform entrepreneurship research in other professions
