

How to Write an Autobiography

Tips to write an autobiography:

Like the examples of autobiographies discussed above, any autobiography needs to deal with a few aspects:

Introduction: One needs to give an introduction about themselves in the autobiography. This introduction needs to contain basic aspects like name, where you live, when and where were you born, what conditions were you born in, etc.

You in totality: This part of the autobiography deals with a general point of view, that you hold about yourself. It also needs to let the reader be able to visualize you in the current day. You need to include your current situations, habits, lifestyle etc.

Life, in general: This part of the autobiography deals with your view about life, on a general note. You need to include your understanding of life and its implications. This part is your route to propound your belief. So, make it descriptive.

View and aims: Here, you talk about where do you see yourself in the future or what you expect to happen in the future. This part, mostly, should be in compatibility with the previous aspect, else your reader could get confused and lose interest in the book.

Conclusion: Like all stories, an autobiography also needs to have an apt conclusion. You can leave a lasting impression on the reader with the help of your conclusion. Remember, you do not need to have a "moral of the story". You can simply end it with hope, if you like.

Always remember, it is your autobiography, not an example of an autobiography, you can write it the way you like. So, experiment and enjoy. As they say, "if you find it interesting while writing it, the reader will find it interesting while reading it". This is where I sign off. Hope to find your autobiography on the stands soon!!

How to begin writing an autobiography

When writing an autobiography, focus on FOUR major things: (1) who you are in life (how would you describe your personality), (2) what life means to you, (3) what major life events or critical issues have had an impact on your life, and (4) what your outlook on the future is.

The first thing you do when writing an autobiography is start off with a lot of facts about

Titles For Autobiographical Essays:

Autobiographical Writing and British Literature 1783-1834 James Treadwell, 2005-01-20 The word autobiography is a late eighteenth century coinage yet by 1826 it was used as the title for a multi volume anthology of self writing and in 1834 Thomas Carlyle wrote of these Autobiographical times of ours Over the course of those few decades readers and writers came to recognize and name a new genre This book is the first full study of the phenomenon examining both the conditions and the practice of autobiographical writing in Romantic literature Historians of autobiography have often pointed to the turn of the nineteenth century as a pivotal moment In Rousseau and De Quincey s Confessions Wordsworth s Prelude and other canonical documents it has been argued self writing begins to serve the purpose of expressing the individuality autonomy and interiority of the self A more wide ranging view of the actual state of autobiography at the time exposes this narrative as a misrepresentation Self writing does gain a new kind of prominence around 1800 not however because it articulates Romantic ideologies of selfhood but because it becomes a focus of scrutiny and of contention The decades of the Romantic period identified themselves as Autobiographical times but did so anxiously This book asks what forms did that recognition and that anxiety take within the literary culture of the period What did autobiography mean to Romantic readers and writers How do autobiographical texts of the period reflect express and negotiate these conditions As well as reading a wide variety of those documents with single chapters devoted to works by Coleridge Byron and Lamb Treadwell examines writing on and around autobiography essays reviews and other forms of commentary By preserving a continuous relation between the texts and their contexts this book offers the first proper study of what is actually meant by Romantic autobiography

The Postethnic Literary Florian Sedlmeier, 2014-12-11 The book explores the discursive and theoretical conditions for conceptualizing the postethnic literary It historicizes US multicultural and postcolonial studies as institutionalized discursive formations which constitute a paratext that regulates the reception of literary texts according to the paradigm of representativeness Rather than following that paradigm the study offers an alternative framework by rereading contemporary literary texts for their investment in literary form By means of self reflective intermedial transpositions the writings of Sherman Alexie Chang rae Lee and Jamaica Kincaid insist upon a differentiation between the representation of cultural sign systems or subject positions and the dramatization of individual gestures of authorship As such they form a postethnic literary constellation further probed in the epilogue of the study focused on Dave Eggers

The Philosopher's Autobiography Shlomit C. Schuster, 2003-01-30 Throughout the ages philosophers have examined their own lives in an attempt both to find some meaning and to explain the roots of their philosophical perspectives This volume is an introduction to philosophical autobiography a rich but hitherto ignored literary genre that questions the self its social context and existence in general The author analyzes representative narratives from antiquity to postmodernity focusing in particular on three case studies the autobiographies of St Augustine Rousseau and Sartre Through the study of these exemplary texts philosophical reflection on the self emerges as a valid alternative to Freudian psychoanalysis and as a way of promoting self renewal and change Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers No distinctive title United States. Good, 2014-08-01 First published in 1988 this title is a study of the essay as a literary genre not just in terms of its general intellectual and literary history but as an exploration of the creative possibilities of the form The rise of the essay is discussed in relation to the rise of the novel and the emergence of empiricism in science but the main focus of Graham Good s study is on the inner workings of the essay itself Drawing on criticism by Adorno and Lukacs Graham Good presents the genre as an expression of individualism freed from tradition and authority in which the self constructs itself and its object through independent observation Through analysis of the work of such essayists as Montaigne Bacon Virginia Woolf T S Eliot and George Orwell the potential of the genre for independence and individualism is illustrated and the essay is resituated as an intellectually challenging form of creative and critical writing

Autobiographical Inscriptions Barbara Ruth Rodriguez, 1999 As life writing began to attract critical attention in the 1950s and 60s theorists critics and practitioners of autobiography concerned themselves with inscribing that is establishing or asserting a set of conventions that would define constructions of identity and acts of self representation More recently however scholars have identified the ways in which autobiographical works recognize and resist those conventions Moving beyond the narrow prescriptive definition of autobiography as the factual chronological first person narrative of the life story critics have theorized the genre from postmodern and feminist perspectives Autobiographical Inscriptions contributes a theory of autobiography by women writers of color to this lively repositioning of identity studies Barbara Rodriguez breaks new ground in the field with a discussion of the ways in which innovations of form and structure bolster the arguments for personhood articulated by Harriet Jacobs Zora Neale Hurston Hisaye Yamamoto Maxine Hong Kingston Leslie Marmon Silko Adrienne Kennedy and Cecile Pineda Rodriguez maps the intersections of form and structure with issues of race and gender in these women's works Central to the autobiographical act and to the representation of the self in language these intersections mark the ways in which the American woman writer of color comments on the process of subject construction as she produces original forms for the life story In each chapter Rodriguez pairs canonized texts with less well known works reading autobiographical works across cultural contexts and historical periods and even across artistic media By raising crucial questions about structure Autobiographical Inscriptions analyzes the ways in which these texts also destabilize notions of race and gender The result is a remarkable analysis of the seemingly endless range of formal strategies available to adopted and adapted by the American woman writer of color
