

Bullying Research Paper

No matter who you are in the world, at some point in your life you'll experience some form of bullying. Whether it is in school or online, bullying is a serious issue and has significantly impacted many individuals and how they live their daily lives. This issue hits close to home because I've been bullied for as long as I can remember. I even conducted my own experiment on Facebook by posting a picture of my friends and I at the beach in our bathing suits on a page called, "The World's Cutest Teens". I knew that the picture would get some rude comments so I waited, and that's exactly what happened.

People began to call us rude names and basically told us that we were disgusting. I took a picture of all the rude comments and the picture of us and made a collage, I then reposted it on the page saying that I would use the information I found in my research paper. I said that it doesn't matter who you are in the world, bullying still happens today and it needs to be addressed, that picture now has over 20,000 "likes" on Facebook and I'm receiving tons of messages from people saying how smart I am to have come up with this idea.

Now although I didn't take the rude comments to heart, there are still many people in the world that do. It hurts them and ruins their self esteem. Bullying is a human rights violation. It is the abuse of the powerless by those who think they have all of the power. Bullying is the first human rights violation millions of students in the United States will confront. As a human rights organization, STTP [Speak Truth To Power] stated in a recent interview that they can't simply ignore the fact that children aren't able to get the proper education that they deserve because of bullies.

They have to do their best to put a stop to as much bullying as possible. Two children in every classroom in America are estimated to miss at least one day of school each month because they feel unsafe. Local governments realize we cannot afford to dismiss youth violence as simply "kids being kids. " Anti-bullying legislation has been passed in 49 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. But laws and reporting systems aren't enough. We must move beyond simply having the systems in place to react to bullying.

We must instill in our youth the ideals of civility and respect, and we must create environments that prevent bullying everywhere our children live, learn and play. ("Schools Have Work to Do") However, bullying doesn't just exist in school, bullying can happen anywhere at any time and people need to know what they can do to help prevent and stop the bullies from attacking. First, you want to make sure that the person being bullied informs someone that the bullying is occurring by telling a trusted adult.

Then, if you haven't already, confront the bully by telling them how what they're doing to you is really upsetting and you would like it if they could please stop. If the bullying still

Bully Nation Charles Derber, Yale R. Magrass, 2017-12-17 It s not just the bully in the schoolyard that we should be worried about The one on one bullying that dominates the national conversation this timely book suggests is actually part of a larger problem a natural outcome of the bullying nature of our national institutions And as long as the United States embraces militarism and aggressive capitalism systemic bullying and all its impacts at home and abroad will persist as a major crisis Bullying looks very similar on the personal and institutional levels it involves an imbalance of power and behavior that consistently undermines its victim securing compliance and submission and reinforcing the bully s sense of superiority and legitimacy The similarity this book tells us is not a coincidence Applying the concept of the sociological imagination which links private problems and public issues authors Charles Derber and Yale Magrass argue that individual bullying is an outgrowth and a necessary function of a larger social phenomenon Bullying is seen here as a structural problem arising from systems organized around steep power hierarchies from the halls of the Pentagon Congress and corporate offices to classrooms and playing fields and the environment Dominant people and institutions need to create a culture in which violence and aggression are seen as natural and just one where individuals compete over who will be bully or victim and each is seen as deserving their fate within this hierarchy The larger the inequalities of power in society or among nations or even across species the more likely it is that both institutional and personal bullying will become commonplace The authors see the life long psychological scars interpersonal bullying can bring but believe it is almost impossible to reduce such bullying without first challenging the institutions that breed and encourage it In the United States a system of intertwined corporations governments and military institutions carries out systemic bullying to create profits and sustain its own power While acknowledging the diversity and savagery of many other bully nations the authors contend that America as the most powerful nation in the world and one that aggressively promotes its system as a model merits special attention It is only by recognizing the bullying built into this model that we can address the real problem and in this Bully Nation makes a hopeful beginning Breaking the Silence Martin Ridge, Gerard Cunningham, 2008-04-01 Assigned to a quiet corner of Ireland's most remote county Martin Ridge was heading for retirement after a long career with An Garda Siochána the Irish police force All that changed when a call from a local priest set in motion what would become the most horrific sex abuse investigation the island had ever known At Christmas 1997 a local priest Fr Eugene Greene reported to the Garda that a man had tried to blackmail him This call an act of hubris set in motion a Garda investigation that revealed him to be a serial abuser of children As word of the investigation spread 26 men came forward Most were from the tiny Irish speaking parish of Gort an Choirce All had been abused by Greene as children Soon after another man came forward to say that he had been sexually abused by a local schoolteacher Denis McGinley As Ridge dug deeper he discovered that McGinley had been systematically abusing children in his classroom for decades He had at least 50 victims The Greene and McGinley cases both involved the Catholic Church Greene was a priest and McGinley a teacher in a Catholic school answerable to religious managers As Ridge investigated he discovered that the Church knew about the abuse but ignored the problem Brilliantly written and unsparing in its fidelity to the truth Breaking the Silence is more than an account of a police investigation it's the story of an entire community's struggle to come to terms with its betrayal by those in whom it placed the most trust
