Renaissance Resonance Russell Ganim, 1998. Reversing the predominant critical interpretation of La Ceppede and the Thormes, this study claims that literary contexts and avatars act as a point of entry into devotion. The book reads La Ceppede from the inside out, asking the principal question: How does the literary initiate an exploration of the theological? Focusing on the ways in which the Thormes transform literature into a potential instrument of salvation, the text looks at La Ceppede's adaptation of different Renaissance lyric types. Modulation of the formal and thematic traits of lyric subgenres such as the blason, the baiser, the pastoral, and pastourelle, as well as the emblem, allow La Ceppede to develop and exploit literature as a contemplative framework. The goals in taking this approach are to emphasize La Ceppede's originality in terms of representing the Christian body and spiritually erotic imagery. This methodology also highlights La Ceppede's use of lyric subgenre as a means of unifying the first and second volumes of the Thormes. In its final chapter, the book compares and contrasts La Ceppede's appropriation of lyric forms with that of other Renaissance poets such as Lazare de Selve, Jean de Sponde, and Marguerite de Navarre. The work concludes by arguing that the contribution of La Ceppede's text lies in the singularity of its narrative structure, its poetic mission, and its depiction of Christ's humanity. Literary structure becomes meditative structure as lyric form becomes a vehicle toward redemption.

Veiled Intent Natasha Duquette, 2016-07-26. How were eighteenth-century dissenting women writers able to ensure their unique biblical interpretation was preserved for posterity? And how did their careful yet shrewd tactics spur early nineteenth-century women writers into vigorous theological debate? Why did the biblical engagement of such women prompt their commitment to causes such as the antislavery movement? Veiled Intent traces the pattern of tactical moves and counter moves deployed by Anna Barbauld, Phillis Wheatley, Helen Maria Williams, Joanna Baillie, and Mary Anne Schimmelpenninck. These female poets and philosophers veiled provocative hermeneutical claims and calls for social action within aesthetic forms of discourse viewed as more acceptably feminine forms of expression In between the lines of their published hymns sonnets devotional texts for children and works of aesthetic theory the perceptive reader finds striking theological insights shared from a particularly female perspective These women were not only courageously interjecting their individual viewpoints into a predominantly male domain of formal study biblical hermeneutics but also intentionally supporting each other in doing so Their publications reveal they were drawn to biblical imagery of embodiment and birth to stories of the apparently weak vanquishing the tyrannical on behalf of the oppressed and to the metaphor of Christ as strengthening rock
