Rajend Mesthrie, 2002-10-17 A wide ranging guide to language and society in South Africa The book surveys the most important language groupings in the region in terms of wider socio historical processes contact between the different language varieties language and public policy issues associated with post apartheid society and its eleven official languages

The Cambridge History of South African Literature David Attwell, Derek Attridge, 2012-01-12 South Africa's unique history has produced literatures in many languages in both oral and written forms reflecting the diversity in the cultural histories and experiences of its people The Cambridge History offers a comprehensive multi authored history of South African literature in all eleven official languages and more minor ones of the country produced by a team of over forty international experts including contributors from all of the major regions and language groups of South Africa It will provide a complete portrait of South Africa's literary production organised as a chronological history from the oral traditions existing before colonial settlement to the post apartheid revision of the past In a field marked by controversy this volume is more fully representative than any existing account of South Africa's literary history It will make a unique contribution to Commonwealth international and postcolonial studies and serve as a definitive reference work for decades to come

Hungochani, Second Edition Marc Epprecht, 2013-04-01 In the tapestry of global queer cultures Africa has long been neglected or stereotyped In Hungochani Marc Epprecht seeks to change these limited views by tracing Southern Africa's history and traditions of homosexuality modern gay and lesbian identities and the vibrant gay rights movement that has emerged since the 1980s Epprecht explores the diverse ways African cultures traditionally explained same sex sexuality and follows the emergence of new forms of gender identity and sexuality that evolved with the introduction of capitalism colonial rule and Christian education Using oral testimony memoirs literature criminal court records and early government enquiries from the eighteenth century to the present he traces the complex origins of homophobia By bringing forth a wealth of evidence about once hidden sexual behaviour Epprecht contributes to the honest open discussion that is urgently needed in the battle against HIV AIDS Homosexuality or hungochani as it is known in Zimbabwe has been denounced by many politicians and church leaders as an example of how Western decadence has corrupted African traditions However a bold new gay rights movement has emerged in several of the countries of the region since the 1980s offering an exciting new dimension in the broad struggle for human rights and democracy unfolding on the continent In a new preface to this edition Epprecht considers the recent advances of equality on the continent such as the legalization of same sex marriage in South Africa as well as discriminatory setbacks such as Uganda's anti homosexuality legislation South African Poultry

Magazine and Small-holder, 1928 Race, Class, and Power Leo Kuper, 2017-07-05 Examining in detail the apparently inexorable polarization of society in such countries as Rwanda Algeria and South Africa the author questions whether current theories correctly explain the past or offer adequate guides for the future In their place he puts forward an alternative neo Durkheimian view of the possibility of non violent revolutionary change based on the development of such social and cultural continuities as already exist within each plural society But he warns that this is an age of passionate commitment to violence in which vicarious killers abound in search of a Vietnam of their own The aim of this groundbreaking and challenging book is to create theoretical perspectives in which to view the racial conflict of plural societies Written in the turbulent early 1970s the book demonstrates the inadequacy of then prevailing views such as Marxist interpretations of racial conflict as class struggle and the Fanon a priori rejection of non violent techniques of change which Kuper holds responsible for the acceptance of what he calls the platitudes of violence The book concludes with more personal sections focusing on the author's struggles with the then prevailing South African society critiques of that and censorship of his attempts to make these public In the light of subsequent changes in South Africa many decades later this book serves not only as an important work of political sociology but as a personal testament to the fight against racism in South Africa Leo Kuper was professor of sociology and director of the African Studies Center at the University of California Los Angeles A South African by birth he was one of the first writers on genocide as well as other aspects of African studies and urban sociology His major book Genocide Penguin 1981 remains in print The Leo Kuper Foundation is a non governmental organization dedicated to the eradication of genocide through research advice and education It was created in Washington DC in 1994 following the death of Leo Kuper with the aim of improving measures to prevent genocide The main area of work for the past five years has been in support of the creation of an International Criminal Court Troy Duster is director at the Institute for the History of the Production of Knowledge New York University

South African Human Resource Management Ben Swanepoel, 2003 South African Human Resource Management focuses on the knowledge and skills that managers at all levels need The authors integrate contemporary international research and implementation with a South African perspective Familiarity

Is the Kingdom of the Lost Dugmore Boetie, 2020-11-03 A fast paced romp through apartheid era South Africa that exemplifies the creative human capacity to overcome seemingly omnipotent enemies and overwhelming odds The picaresque hero of this novel Duggie is a dispossessed black street kid turned con man Duggie's response to being confined to the lowest level of South Africa's oppressive and humiliating racial hierarchy is to one up its absurdity with his own glib logic and preposterous schemes Duggie's story as one critic puts it offers an encyclopedic catalogue of rip offs swindles and hoaxes that regularly land him in jail and rely on his white targets refusal to admit a black man is capable of outsmarting them Duggie exploits South Africa's bureaucratic pass laws and leverages his artificial leg every chance he gets As a worthless embarrassment to the authorities and a bad example to the convicts Duggie even manages to get himself thrown out of jail From Duggie's Depression era childhood in urban Johannesburg to World War II and the rise of the white supremacist apartheid regime to his final bitter triumph Boetie's narrative celebrates humanity's relentless drive to survive at any cost This new edition of Boetie's out of print classic features a recently discovered photograph of the author an introduction replete with previously unpublished research numerous annotations and is accompanied by Lionel Abrahams haunting poem

Soweto Funeral composed after attending Boetie's interment all of which render the text accessible to a new generation of readers

Human Rights, Race, and Resistance in Africa and the African Diaspora Toyin Falola, Cacee Hoyer, 2016-10-04 Africans and their descendants have long been faced with abuse of their human rights most frequently due to racism or racialized issues. Consequently, understanding shifting conceptualizations of race and identity is essential to understanding how people of color confronted these encounters. This book addresses these issues and their connections to social justice, discrimination, and equality movements. From colonial abuses or their legacies, black people around the world have historically encountered discrimination, and yet they do not experience injustice opaquely. The chapters in this book explore and clarify how Africans and their descendants struggled to achieve agency despite long histories of discrimination. Contributors draw upon a range of case studies related to resistance and examine these in conjunction with human rights and the concept of race to provide a thorough exploration of the diasporic experience. Human Rights, Race, and Resistance in Africa and the African Diaspora will appeal to students and scholars of Ethnic and Racial Studies, African History, and Diaspora Studies.

South Africa, 1913 Bush War: The Road to Cuito Cuanavale Gennadii Vladimirovich Shubin, Andrei Aleksandrovich Tokarev, 2011 For almost 15 years, South Africa was involved in a civil war in Angola, the so-called Bush War, on behalf of the National Union for the Total Independence of Angola faction. The climax of the conflict portrayed in this history was the battle of Cuito Cuanavale, the largest military engagement on African soil since World War II. This book provides the firsthand personal accounts of the clash leading up to Cuito Cuanavale for the first time in English, as told by the Soviet advisers to the Angolan army. Their experiences of the war, as well as their views and assessment of their South African enemies and Cuban and Angolan allies, will not only surprise and fascinate readers but will also offer new insights into the war itself.

Nation, Language, and the Ethics of Translation Sandra Bermann, Michael Wood, 2005-07-05 In recent years, scholarship on translation has moved well beyond the technicalities of converting one language into another and beyond conventional translation theory. With new technologies blurring distinctions between the original and its reproductions and with globalization redefining national and cultural boundaries, translation is now emerging as a reformulated subject of lively interdisciplinary debate. Nation, Language, and the Ethics of Translation enters the heart of this debate. It covers an exceptional range of topics, from simultaneous translation to legal theory, from the language of exile to the language of new nations, from the press to the cinema, and cultures and languages from contemporary Bengal to ancient Japan, from translations of Homer to the work of Don DeLillo. All twenty-two essays by leading voices, including Gayatri Spivak and the late Edward Said, are provocative and persuasive. The book's four sections—Translation as Medium and across Media, The Ethics of Translation, Translation and Difference, and Beyond the Nation—together provide a comprehensive view of current thinking on nationality and translation, one that will be widely consulted for years to come. The contributors are Jonathan E. Abel, Emily Apter, Sandra Bermann, Vilashini Cooppan, Stanley Corngold, David Damrosch, Robert Eaglestone,
