Lindy Heinecken

South African Army Application Forms 2015:

South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heineken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security political and social environment since 1994. In South Africa's changed political state, how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy? This book presents an overview of the security environment, how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement, force preparation, force employment and force sustainability. The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force, the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy, recruitment and retention, military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment, gender equality and mainstreaming, the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged, HIV/AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness. In closing, the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation, spelling out some lessons learned. The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence security and civil-military relations of countries around the world.

Intra-Africa Migrations Inocent Moyo, Jussi P. Laine, Christopher Changwe Nshimbi, 2021-02-21 This book discusses regional and continental integration in Africa by examining the management of migration across the continent. It examines borders and securitisation of migration and the challenges and opportunities that arise out of reconfigured continental demographics. The book offers insights on intra-Africa migrations and highlights how intra-continental migration creates socio-economic and cultural borders. It explores how these borders, beyond the physical boundaries of states including the Berlin Conference constructed borders, create cultural divides, challenges for economic integration and cross-border security and irregular migration patterns. While the movement of economic goods is valued for regional economic integration, the mobility of people is seen as a threat. This approach to migration contradicts the intentions of true integration and development and triggers negative responses such as xenophobia that cannot be addressed by simply managing the physical border and allowing free movement. This book engages in a pivotal discussion of these issues which are hitherto missing in African border studies by demonstrating the ubiquity and overreaching influence of various kinds of borders on the African continent. With multidisciplinary contributions that provide an in-depth understanding of intra-Africa migrations and strategies for enhanced migration management, this book will be a useful resource for scholars and students studying geography, politics, security studies, development studies, African studies and sociology.

The Handbook of African Defence and Armed Forces Evert Kleynhans, Marco Wyss, 2025-03-01 The Handbook of African Defence and Armed Forces provides the first in-depth and multifaceted analysis of the evolution and current state of national defence policies, strategies, doctrines, capabilities, security challenges and strategic responses of African states and their armed forces. Geographically these aspects are investigated at the national sub regional and regional levels Chronologically they are analysed against the backdrop of the superpower withdrawal from the continent in the 1990s and the so called New Scramble for Africa which has seen a crescendo of renewed great power interest in the continent s resources as well as its strategic role location and relevance since the 2000s The book takes a bottom up and African centric approach and is organized around five key themes i the differing security outlooks and defence policies of African powers within the region and the different sub regions ii the strategies doctrines transformation and employment of African armed forces iii the relationship between African armed forces with sub regional regional and international organizations iv the challenges that African states and their armed forces have been facing and their strategic responses and v the position of African perspectives and agency in the context of continental and international security and defence Understanding African security and defence especially in terms of each individual nation s ability to contribute to peacekeeping operations counterterrorism border security and internal security requires a focus on the national level of armed forces and defence policies this in turns sheds light on sub regional and regional divergences challenges and cooperation Based on this framework the chapters in this volume offer comprehensive African perspectives on African and international security and defence and in doing so show the agency of the continent s countries and armed forces in International Security and Relations

J. Korieh, 2020-03-26 A sophisticated history of colonial interactions in Nigeria during World War II drawing on hitherto unexplored archival resources A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa Roy Richard Grinker, Stephen C. Lubkemann, Christopher B. Steiner, Euclides Gonçalves, 2018-11-09 An essential collection of scholarly essays on the anthropology of Africa offering a thorough introduction to the most important topics in this evolving and diverse field of study The study of the cultures of Africa has been central to the methodological and theoretical development of anthropology as a discipline since the late 19th century As the anthropology of Africa has emerged as a distinct field of study anthropologists working in this tradition have strived to build a disciplinary conversation that recognizes the diversity and complexity of modern and ancient African cultures while acknowledging the effects of historical anthropology on the present and future of the field of study A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa is a collection of insightful essays covering the key questions and subjects in the contemporary anthropology of Africa with a key focus on addressing the topics that define the contemporary discipline Written and edited by a team of leading cultural anthropologists it is an ideal introduction to the most important topics in the field both those that have consistently been a part of the critical dialogue and those that have emerged as the central questions of the discipline's future. Beginning with essays on the enduring topics in the study of African cultures, A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa provides a foundation in the contemporary critical approach to subjects of longstanding interest. With these subjects as a groundwork, later essays address decolonization, the postcolonial experience, and questions of modern identity and definition, providing representation of the diverse thinking and scholarship in the modern anthropology of Africa. Handbook of Transnational Environmental Crime Lorraine Elliott, William H.

Schaedla, 2016-07-27 Crimes associated with the illegal trade in wildlife, timber, and fish stocks, pollutants, and waste have become increasingly transnational, organized, and serious. They warrant attention because of their environmental consequences, their human toll, their impacts on the rule of law and good governance, and their links with violence, corruption, and a range of crossover crimes. This ground-breaking, multi-disciplinary Handbook brings together leading scholars and practitioners to examine key sectors in transnational environmental crime and to explore its most significant conceptual, operational, and enforcement challenges.

Disarmament, Demobilisation and Reintegration of Ex-Combatants in Africa Ibrahim Bangura, 2023-07-17 This book critically examines the approaches to Disarmament, Demobilisation, and Reintegration (DDR) of ex-combatants programming in Africa. Drawing on empirical evidence from across the continent, the book investigates the different theories, contextual realities, and approaches that have informed the establishment and implementation of such programmes, the opportunities they have provided for stability, peace, and security, and the challenges with which they have contended. The book combines broader theoretical analysis with country-specific case studies, including Nigeria, the Central African Republic, South Sudan, Somalia, Liberia, Sierra Leone, Burundi, Zimbabwe, South Africa, and the Democratic Republic of Congo. Overall, the book asks how DDR programming has evolved in Africa, what factors have contributed to the success or failure of DDR processes, and what we can expect for DDR in Africa in the future. This book will be a useful guide for students and researchers across the fields of Peace and Conflict Studies, Security Studies, History, Political Science, Sociology, and African Studies.

South Sudan's Injustice System Rachel Ibreck, 2019-08-30 An outstanding feat based on in-depth research in a difficult setting, this book uncovers the dysfunctions of law and the bravery of South Sudan's activists struggling for justice. Mark Fathi Massoud, University of California, Santa Cruz. Peacekeeping in Africa Marco Jowell, 2018-02-21 In recent decades, African states have developed an impressive infrastructure for training their peacekeepers. In addition, peacekeeping, peacebuilding, and associated areas of conflict resolution have become significant areas of employment. Marco Jowell has spent a decade working in peacekeeping training in East Africa, initially as one of the foreign Technical Advisers at the Peace Support Operations (PSO) training centre in Kenya, the International Peace Support Training Centre (IPSTC), and subsequently as a strategic adviser to the Rwanda Peace Academy. Using first-hand experience, he considers how military forces from a variety of African states, with great differences in history, language, and political systems, and with militaries with different cultures and capabilities, can conduct complicated multinational peacekeeping operations He shows how regional peacekeeping training centres provide an environment for African elites predominately military to interact with each other through shared training and experiences This process of interaction or socialisation improves skills but also encourages cohesion so that future African led missions will be managed by well trained officers who are comfortable and willing to work within a regional or Pan African framework Jowell shows that part of the aim of peacekeeping training centres is to foster a Pan African outward looking ideology or disposition as well as improving technical ability This book will be essential reading for all involved with African military and security studies and analysts of peacekeeping training and operations

Traditional Leaders in a Democracy Skosana, Dineo, Buthelezi, Mbongiseni, 2019-03-31 Post 1994 South Africa's traditional leaders have fought for recognition and positioned themselves as major players in the South African political landscape Yet their role in a democracy is contested with leaders often accused of abusing power disregarding human rights expropriating resources and promoting tribalism Some argue that democracy and traditional leadership are irredeemably opposed and cannot co exist Meanwhile shifts in the political economy of the former bantustans the introduction of platinum mining in particular have attracted new interests and conflicts to these areas with chiefs often designated as custodians of community interests This edited volume explores how chieftancy is practised experienced and contested in contemporary South Africa It includes case studies of how those living under the authority of chiefs in a modern democracy negotiate or resist this authority in their respective areas Chapters in this book are organised around three major sites of contest leadership land and law
