South African Defence Force Recruitment For 2015:

Military Psychology for Africa Gideon AJ van Dyk, 2016-03-17 Military Psychology for Africa is the first textbook of its kind from Africa. Selected authors with competent military psychology knowledge, skills, expertise, and experience each contributed a chapter to this unique book. The book empowers academics, students, and military fellows to apply this knowledge at academic institutions and military units during operations and in presenting short courses. The book will also equip soldiers with new knowledge for advancing peace on the continent and abroad. Researching the Military Helena Carreiras, Celso Castro, Sabina Frederic, 2016-03-02 Researching the Military focuses on the experiences of researchers who study the military around the world. It explores the historical, social, institutional, and personal factors that frame research and scrutinize the way knowledge in this area impacts society and policy. More than merely analyzing research experiences yet necessarily including them, it is also about the experiences of researchers, their position with regard to the object of their studies, the institutional context where they work, and the way their research impacts the academic and policy-making fields in the respective countries. The common theme to the various chapters is reflexivity, a conscious effort at addressing the conditions of research and the position of the researcher and the research participants in that interface. By collecting diverse experiences of researchers from across the world, this volume aims to enhance reflexivity in the field of military studies and to encourage the exchange of knowledge between the academic field and the military arena. This book will be of much interest to students of military studies, research methods, sociology, social anthropology, and security studies in general.

South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heineken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security, political, and social environment since 1994. In South Africa's changed political state, how has civilian control of the military been implemented, and what does this mean for defence in a democracy? This book presents an overview of the security environment, how the mission focus of the military has changed, and the implications for force procurement, force preparation, force employment, and force sustainability. The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force, the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy, recruitment and retention, military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society, and finding gainful employment, gender equality, and mainstreaming the rise of military unions, and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged. HIV/AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness. In closing, the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation, spelling out some lessons learned. The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence, security, and civil-military relations of countries around the world.

Home Front: South Africa and the Second World War Evert Kleynhans, Anri Delpont, 2024-11-15 Home Front: South Africa and the Second World War offers a fresh academic perspective through the voices of both new and established scholars leveraging recently uncovered archival material to illuminate the experiences of South Africans at home between 1939 and 1945 This latest addition to South Africa's wartime historiography is thoughtfully divided into two broad sections dealing with active participation in and resistance against the Allied war effort The book highlights the vigorous mobilisation and recruitment campaigns that saw thousands enlist and the pivotal roles women assumed in industry and civil service It explores how the war effort permeated every facet of society challenging traditional gender roles and societal norms It delves into the dynamic shifts within South African society from politics and community mobilisation to the contributions of collegiate schools and the impact on sports It uncovers the undercurrents of dissent that existed alongside visible support It brings to light the political activism within the African National Congress the covert operations of Nazi sympathisers and the simmering tensions among Afrikaner nationalists In doing so the chapters collectively unravel the complexity of South African society where loyalty and opposition coexisted often influenced by propaganda espionage and socio political manoeuvring

Contemporary Issues in South African Military Psychology Nicole Dodd, Petrus C. Bester, Justin van der Merwe, 2020-05-13 Contemporary Issues in South African Military Psychology is a well timed extremely thought provoking imperative particular to the African context and deals with a highly contemporary issue within the people management and the management studies fields specifically in the military field and context This is specifically of importance as military psychology is a behavioural science that combines theory and practical application Prof Karel Stanz University of Pretoria

Australian Contributions to Strategic and Military Geography Stuart Pearson, Jane L. Holloway, Richard Thackway, 2018-03-08 Drawing from military geography's spatial roots its embrace of dynamic systems and integration of human and biophysical environments this book helps in understanding the value of analyzing patterns processes and systems and cross scale and multi disciplinary ways of acting in a complex world while making the case for a resurgence of strategic and military geography in Australia Here leading experts demonstrate that geography retains its relevance in clarifying the scale and dynamics of defense activities in assessments of the international regional national and site impacts of changes in physical cyber and human geographies The cases presented show Australia contributing to a growing strategic and military geography

Post-conflict Reconstruction and Development in Africa Theo Neethling, Heidi Hudson, 2013-10-01 Some of the bloodiest conflicts occur on the African continent An Afrocentric perspective is therefore a suitable starting point for research into the possible strategies for post conflict peacebuilding The authors of this book consider the problems around the concept of post conflict and the blurring of military and civilian roles analysing the UN roles in the DRC and Sierra Leone as well as the African Union Mission in Burundi The main context of the book however is the South African Army's strategy for PCRD in Africa which was developed with the African Union's 2006 Post Conflict Reconstruction and Development Needs Assessment Guide in mind This book emanates from this plan It therefore also explores South Africa's policy imperatives to integrate development projects and peace missions involving the military as well as civilian organisations While this book is not intended as an instruction manual it hopes to ignite an understanding of the particular processes required to develop a sustainable and cohesive post conflict peacebuilding strategy within the African environment

The Disruptive Impact of Lethal Autonomous Weapons Systems Diffusion Austin Wyatt, 2021-11-04 Challenging the focus on great powers in the international debate this book explores how rising middle power states are engaging with emerging major military innovations and analyses how this will affect the stability and security of the Indo Pacific Presenting a data based analysis of how middle power actors in the Indo Pacific are responding to the emergence of military Artificial Intelligence and Killer Robots the book asserts that continuing to exclude non great power actors from our thinking in this field enables the dangerous diffusion of Lethal Autonomous Weapon Systems LAWS to smaller states and terrorist groups and demonstrates the disruptive effects of these military innovations on the balance of power in the Indo Pacific Offering a detailed analysis of the resource capacities of China United States Singapore and Indonesia it shows how major military innovation acts as a circuit breaker between competitor states disrupting the conventional superiority of the dominant hegemonic state and giving a successful adopter a distinct advantage over their opponent This book will appeal to researchers end users in the military and law enforcement communities and policymakers It will also be a valuable resource for researchers interested in strategic stability for the broader Asia Pacific and the role of middle power states in hegemonic power transition and conflict

Impact of Immigration and Xenophobia on Development in Africa Mafukata, Mavhungu Abel, 2020-12-25 Human movement has an influence on the socio economic dynamics of people regions and countries The schisms between host and immigrants impact how host countries utilize immigrant skills and expertise to benefit their economies However immigrants are impacted by negative diplomatic relations between countries that limit the free movement of people and the welfare of immigrants In association this brings about social challenges such as Afrophobia racism xenophobia hatred and violence within these countries While these challenges are deeply rooted across the world Africa has its own unique challenges Still struggling with massive underdevelopment Africa needs to remove all the negative factors that could impede its quest of achieving development imperatives Impact of Immigration and Xenophobia on Development in Africa analyzes the genesis and evolution of immigration in Africa and how this has resulted in social challenges such as xenophobia within the continent The book focuses on demonstrating how immigrant skills and expertise can be positively utilized to assist African development and asserts the existence of xenophobia in respective countries does not assist Africa's quest of resolving its own challenges. The chapters within this book therefore explore how this subsequent output of xenophobia has impacted African development and focuses on the revival of Pan Africanism as a uniting instrument and ideology for Africans. This book is a valuable reference tool for activists, retired and practicing politicians, governments, policymakers, practitioners, stakeholders, researchers, students, and academicians.

The Republic of Gupta Pieter-Louis Myburgh, 2017-04-24. What was Ajay Gupta doing on Thabo Mbeki's secret advisory council? Did the Guptas play a role in Jacob Zuma's rise to power? How did the Guptas capture South African cricket? What is their interest in the controversial nuclear procurement deal? What influence have they had in the hiring and firing of cabinet ministers? The Guptas rose to national infamy when a commercial airliner packed with guests for a family wedding was allowed to land at Air Force Base Waterkloof in 2013, sparking an onslaught of public outrage. Since then, they have become embroiled in allegations of state capture, of dishing out cabinet posts to officials who would do their bidding, and of benefiting from lucrative state contracts and dubious loans. The Republic of Gupta investigates what the Gupta brothers were up to during Thabo Mbeki's presidency and how they got into the inner circle of President Jacob Zuma. It shines new light on their controversial ventures in computers, cricket, newspapers, and TV news, and coal and uranium mining. And it explores their exposure by public protector Thuli Madonsela, their conflict with finance minister Pravin Gordhan, and the real reasons behind the cabinet reshuffle of March 2017. Pieter Louis Myburgh delves deeper than ever before into the Guptas' business dealings and their links to prominent South African politicians, and explains how one family managed to transform an entire country into the Republic of Gupta.

Women and the Military Ruth Margolies Beitler, Sarah M. Gerstein, 2021-04-07. This addition to the Women and Society around the World series explores the roles, challenges, and accomplishments of women in the military in countries across the globe. Around the world, millions of men serve in their countries' militaries, be it on land, on the seas, or in the air. But while many militaries have opened all positions to women, even those on the front lines, others remain closed. Countries have cited a number of reasons for their policies, including changing views of women and the military, conscription, and economic and demographic trends. Written by a professor of comparative politics at the United States Military Academy at West Point and an active-duty army major, this book seeks to provide an understanding of women's roles in militaries around the world. The book is organized by region, exploring societal and cultural views of masculinity and war, as well as factors influencing changing views of women and the military, including conscription and economic and demographic trends. Topics also include sexual harassment, recruitment, and views on women's physicality and strength. High school students, undergraduates, and general readers will find this cross-cultural study a fascinating and important resource.

The Second World War in East Africa, 1940-1941, 2024-12-16. As a first of its kind, this edited collection brings together a variety of chapters dealing with different topics that address where possible most of the participants involved in or affected by the conflict, as well as different, often neglected aspects of the East Africa campaign of the Second World War. In doing so, this volume not only makes a definite contribution to the broader historiography and to our understanding of a diverse complex Second World War but will also serve as an impetus for further topical research on an important yet neglected campaign of the war Elite Rivalry, Mass Killing and Genocide in Authoritarian Regimes Eelco van der Maat, 2024-06-18 This book explains how mass killing is driven by elite politics within authoritarian regimes Mass killing and genocide defy reason and explanation How can genocidal elites present defenceless victims as an existential threat Why use indiscriminate killing that drives victims to coordinated resistance Mass killing seems counterproductive irrational and therefore inherently ideological By building on new insights on authoritarian politics this book argues that mass killing is not ideological but instead is a rational response to elite rivalry within authoritarian regimes Mass killing is therefore not driven by rivalries between groups but by elite rivalry within groups In Rwanda for example the genocide was not driven by conflicts between Hutu and Tutsi but by conflicts within the Hutu regime The work demonstrates how mass killing helps elites build coalitions with groups that benefit from violence and how it divides support coalitions of rival elites Mass killing can therefore help elites win dangerous internal rivalries By qualitatively and quantitatively exploring elite rivalry and mass killing this book provides a new explanation for a host of mass killings and genocides It demonstrates that well known genocides such as the Rwandan and Cambodian genocides which are seemingly ideological are instead better explained by elite rivalry Mass killing is therefore not driven by the random madness of leaders nor by the desire to kill an outgroup but by the internal threats that authoritarian elites face This book will be of much interest to scholars and students of civil wars genocide political violence and International Relations in general Routledge Handbook of Conflict Response and Leadership in Africa Alpaslan Özerdem, Sinem Akgül-Açıkmeşe, Ian Liebenberg, 2021-09-14 This handbook explores the challenges and opportunities for leadership and conflict response in the context of Africa at several levels Leadership plays a vital role in affecting conflict response but is frequently only examined at the macro level of state government and international organizations This handbook addresses the need to explore challenges and opportunities for leadership at several levels macro global regional national meso NGOs religious groups academics and micro civil society organizations youth groups women s organizations Analysis from multiple levels provides a broader explanation of conflict dynamics and helps to fit localized conflict transformation approaches into wider national or regional structures The multidisciplinary essays presented in this volume encompass the psychological political and structural dimensions of conflict response and demonstrate how its success is fundamentally linked to the style of effectiveness of leadership among other factors The volume is divided into four thematic sections Part I The theory and dynamics of conflict response and leadership Part II Macro level leadership experiences in conflict response Part III Meso micro level leadership experiences in conflict response Part IV Recommendations for improved leadership in conflict response This book will be of much interest to students of conflict resolution peace studies African politics security studies and international relations in general SADC Gender Protocol 2017 Barometer Morna, Colleen Lowe, Makamure,
