Ending Africa's Energy Deficit and the Law Yinka Omorogbe, Ada Okoye Ordor, 2018 With the inclusion of access to energy in the sustainable development goals the role of energy to human existence was finally recognized Yet in Africa this achievement is far from realized Omorogbe and Ordor bring together experts in their fields to ask what is stalling progress examining problems from institutions catering to vested interests at the continent's expense to a need to develop vigorous financial and fiscal frameworks. The ramifications and complications of energy law are labyrinthine; this volume discusses how energy deficits can burden disabled people, women and children in excess of their more fortunate counterparts as well as considering environmental issues including the delicate balance between the necessity of water for drinking and cleaning and the use of water in industrial processes. A pivotal work of scholarship, the book poses pressing questions for energy law and international human rights.

The Nature and Extent of Drug Use and the Prevalence of Related Problems in South Africa Lee Rocha-Silva, 1998. This project was motivated by a prevailing concern among national policy makers and service providers with preventing an expected increase in drug-related health and socioeconomic problems in South Africa, e.g. diseases such as HIV/AIDS, TB and Foetal Alcohol Syndrome, traffic accidents, crime, violence and loss of productivity. Cognizance was taken of the fact that comprehensive and integrated information critical for a cost-effective and co-ordinated prevention strategy in the RSA was lacking, mainly because of limited to some extent unrefined and especially fragmented research infrastructure. Consequently, at the end of 1995 and under the leadership of the Centre for Alcohol Drug-related Research (HSRC), a number of stakeholder agents mobilized national surveillance of the nature, extent of drug use and related problems to inform and monitor the impact of preventive policy actions in South Africa. Collaborators represented policy makers, service providers and research houses from a wide array of contexts linked through the South African Researcher Practitioner Association (SARPA). During 1996, the foundation was laid for national surveillance.

Innovations in Urban Politics Dr Jonathan S. Davies, Jonathan Davies, 2007-12-13. Previously published as a special issue of Policy Studies, this volume demonstrates the vitality of the field of urban politics and presents future challenges for urban political research in the years ahead. If it does not already, the population of cities will very soon make up more than half the global population. As the global urban population continues to expand, the challenges facing urban politics grow with it. How do we understand the relationship between politics and urban policy? What are the political challenges facing citizens and politicians in a radically unequal developing country like South Africa? How are patterns of urban governance institutionalised? How might we understand the changing relationship between hierarchies, markets and networks? And is it possible to develop a genuinely comparative urban politics in countries as different as Canada, South Africa and Bangladesh? Drawing together the work of new and established scholars from the UK, Canada, the US and South Africa in an impressive and wide-ranging collection of articles, this book demonstrates the contribution of urban scholarship to answering these questions.
