From Hardtack to Homefries Barbara Haber,2010-05-11 Barbara Haber one of America s most respected authorities on the history of food has spent years excavating fascinating stories of the ways in which meals cooked and served by women have shaped American history As any cook knows every meal and every diet has a story whether it relates to presidents and first ladies or to the poorest of urban immigrants From Hardtack to Home Fries brings together the best and most inspiring of those stories from the 1840s to the present focusing on a remarkable assembly of little known or forgotten Americans who determined what our country ate during some of its most trying periods Haber s secret weapon is the cookbook She unearths cookbooks and menus from rich and poor urban and rural long past and near present and uses them to answer some fascinating puzzles Why was the food in Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt s White House so famously bad Were they trying to keep guests away or did they themselves simply lack the taste to realize the truth It turns out that Eleanor s chef wrote a cookbook which solves the mystery How did food lure settlers to the hardship of the American West Englishman Fred Harvey s Harvey Girls tempted them with good food and good women How did cooking keep alive World War II Army and Navy POWs in the Pacific A remarkable cookbook reveals how recollections of home cooking and cooking resourcefulness helped mend bodies and spirits From Hardtack to Home Fries uses a light touch to survey a deeply important subject Women s work and women s roles in America s past have not always been easy to recover Barbara Haber shows us that a single ubiquitous ordinary yet extraordinary lens can illuminate a great deal of this other half of our past Haber includes sample recipes and rich photographs bringing the food of bygone eras back to life From Hardtack to Home Fries is a feast and a delight Yes, You Can! And Freeze and Dry It, Too Daniel Gasteiger,2011-04-10 Preserving food is hot The local food movement gains even more popularity as consumers return to vegetable gardening to grow their own food They increasingly have become interested in the techniques for putting up their bounty Driven by the recession the need for healthier chemical free food and taste people everywhere are preserving the abundance of fruits vegetables and herbs harvested from their garden or someone else s You don t even have to grow your own to preserve freshness non gardeners too are learning to preserve with locally grown produce bought from local markets Targeted at anyone who wants to capture the flavor of freshness whether it s from making tomato sauce drying herbs or preserving jams and jellies
