Monthly Catalog, United States Public Documents ,1937 The Path to Freedom ,2025-01-27 The Vimuttimaggā the Path to Freedom is a Theravāda Buddhist manual on the path leading to nibbāna the ultimate freedom from all mental bondage that is reached through the practice of virtue concentration and wisdom The emphasis of the manual is on concentration or meditation and it contains detailed explanations of all of the traditional Buddhist meditation topics The manual was composed by the Buddhist monk Upatissa as a guide for those who wish to practise this path Along with its successor the larger and more scholastic Visuddhimagga it is the only known ancient Buddhist manual that is solely dedicated to the cultivation of the path and that gives such detailed systematic and sometimes unique instructions The original Pāli text of the Vimuttimaggā probably composed in Sri Lanka in the 3rd or 4th century CE is lost and the treatise now only survives as a 6th century Chinese translation and partially in Tibetan translations Besides the first complete English translation of the Chinese text of this important work as well as a translation of the Tibetan quotations from it this book also contains an extensive introduction discussing the contents history and other aspects of the Vimuttimaggā Tin and

Global Capitalism, 1850-2000 Mats Ingulstad,Andrew Perchard,Espen Storli,2014-09-04 For most of the twentieth century tin was fundamental for both warfare and welfare The importance of tin is most powerfully represented by the tin can an invention which created a revolution in food preservation and helped feed both the armies of the great powers and the masses of the new urban society The trouble with tin was that economically viable deposits of the metal could only be found in a few regions of the world predominantly in the southern hemisphere while the main centers of consumption were in the industrialized north The tin trade was therefore a highly politically charged economy in which states and private enterprise competed and cooperated to assert control over deposits smelters and markets Tin provides a particularly telling illustration of how the interactions of business and governments shape the evolution of the global economic trade the tin industry has experienced extensive state intervention during times of war encompasses intense competition and cartelization and has seen industry centers both thrive and fail in the wake of decolonization The history of the international tin industry reveals the complex interactions and interdependencies between local actors and international networks decolonization and globalization as well as government foreign policies and entrepreneurial tactics By highlighting the global struggles for control and the constantly shifting economic geographical and political constellations within one specific industry this collection of essays brings the state back into business history and the firm into the history of international relations

In Translation Joyce Marshall,Gabrielle Roy,2006-12-15 Gabrielle Roy was one of the most prominent Canadian authors of the twentieth century Joyce Marshall an excellent writer herself was one of Roy's English translators The two shared a deep and long lasting friendship based on a shared interest in language and writing In Translation offers a critical examination of the more than two hundred letters exchanged by Roy and Marshall between 1959 and 1980 In their letters Roy and Marshall exchange news about their general health and well being their friends and family their surroundings their travels and other writers as well as their dealings with critics editors and publishers They recount comical incidents and strange encounters in their lives and reflect on human nature current events and from time to time their writing Of particular interest to the two women were the problems they encountered during the translation process Many passages in the letters concern the ways in which the nuances of language can be shaped through translation Editor Jane Everett has arranged the letters here in chronological order and has added critical notes to fill in the historical and literary gaps as well as to identify various editorial problems Shedding light on the process of writing and translating In Translation is an invaluable addition to the study of Canadian writing and to the literature on these two important figures Monthly Bulletin International Railway Congress Association,1925 The Sources of Tindale's New Testament James Loring Cheney,1883 Introduction to the History of Science George Sarton,1927 The Standard Home Reference Library ,1910 Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1975 Smithsonian Miscellaneous Collections ,1912 International Commerce ,1965 Foreign Commerce Weekly ,1965 The Chemical News and Journal of Physical Science ,1869

The second edition Thomas Thomson,1804 Reading Rushdie ,2021-11-01 Salman Rushdie is perhaps the most important writer of the present time His significant and controversial literary interventions in debates on post colonial culture and contemporary South Asian Islam are matched by the contribution he has made to postmodern literature in the West culminating in the award to him in 1993 of the twenty fifth anniversary Booker of Bookers prize This collection of articles focuses on Rushdie s five novels The context is set by the introduction The Politics of Salman Rushdie s Fiction which discusses the political stance of Rushdie s fiction the various influences on his work and the textual strategies and techniques he employs for political expression and cultural critique The postmodern post colonial interface the carnivalesque and satire are major themes treated here and in the articles that follow which also provide diverse other perspectives on Rushdie s thought and method A number of essays have been commissioned specially for this volume An appendix listing selected writings by Rushdie and articles on the Satanic Verses Affair is followed by a comprehensive bibliography annotating critical studies of Rushdie s work Rolling Home William Morris Barnes,2013-02-13 Barnes was born in 1850 into a shipowning family in St Johns Newfoundland and first went to sea while still a schoolboy His career seemed predestined and by the age of 14 he was apprenticed to a Liverpool company serving in their sailing ships working a triangular passage to St Johns the Brazils and back to Liverpool He tried to swallow the anchor when he married but running a grocery store was too mundane and he soon went back to sea transferring his skills to the now dominant steamships Even though he was 64 on the outbreak of the First

World War he promptly volunteered for service He does not seem to have regretted it even after being mined or torpedoed three times the last time he was badly injured and spent three days adrift in an open boat Despite these disasters like many a sailor he was probably safer at sea while in one port he fell for a rather exotic woman only to discover she was a German spy When he eventually retired to New York he got to know a couple called Hilda and Denys Wortman Denys was a newspaper cartoonist who was rather taken with the gruff old sea dog and based a character he dubbed Mopy Dick on him for a series of popular cartoons Meanwhile Hilda encouraged Barnes to record his adventures and she eventually became the editor of the first edition of this book imbuing the story with far more narrative flair than usually found in unliterary memoirs
