Black Iconography and Colonial (re)production at the ICC Stanley Mwangi Wanjiru, 2022-11-25 This book explores the reproduction of colonialism at the International Criminal Court ICC and examines international criminal law ICL vs the black body through an immersive format of art music poetry and architecture and post colonial critical race theory lens Taking a multi disciplinary approach the book interrogates the operationalisation of the Rome Statute to detail a Eurocentric hegemony at the core of ICL It explores how colonialism and slavery have come to shape ICL exposing the perpetuation of the colonial and warns that it has ominous contemporary and future implications for Africa As currently envisaged and acted out at the ICC this law is founded on deceptive and colonial ideas of what is wrong in with the world The book finds that the contemporary ICL regime is founded on white supremacy that corrupts the law's interaction with the African The African is but a unit utilised by the global elite to exploit and extract resources From time to time these alliances disintegrate with ICL becoming a retaliatory tool of choice What is at stake is power not justice This power has been hierarchical with Eurocentrism at the top throughout modern history Colonialism is seen not to have ended

but to have regerminated through the foundation of the independent African state The ICC reproduces the colonial by use of European law and ultimately the over representation of the black accused To conclude the book provides a liberated African forum that can address conflicts in the content with a call for the end of the ICC s involvement in Africa The demand is made for an African court that utilises non colonising African norms which are uniquely suited to address local conflicts Multidisciplinary in nature this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of international criminal law criminal justice human rights law African studies global social justice sociology anthropology postcolonial studies and philosophy
