Mid-Century Romance John T. Connor, 2024-09-13 Mid Century Romance chronicles a revival of the historical novel in the middle decades of the twentieth century in the cultures of British modernism and international communism Born of a national turn in world politics these novels met the turbulence of mid century history with narratives of national becoming roadmaps to situate their readers in the pattern of social change Their writers were often mindful of the genre s romantic era heritage they saw themselves as following in the footsteps of Sir Walter Scott and they drew on the same rescued remains of primitive poetry and popular antiquities that romanticism first used to construct its versions of national identity culture and tradition This book shows how the impulse to salvage traces of ancestral culture and press them to new purpose links the mid century national historical novel to the rise of radical social history and magical realism Post war anticommunism shaped a tradition of the novel as a preserve of art and the individual Mid Century Romance counters with a different genealogy of the British and world novel whose object is society and the future of community the nation and its people It situates its cast of British writers including the modernists Hope Mirrlees and Virginia Woolf the communists Jack Lindsay and Sylvia Townsend Warner the eccentric modernist and sometime fellow traveller John Cowper Powys and the New Left luminary Raymond Williams in a transnational perspective that reaches from Bihar India to Bahia Brazil Gallow: The Fateguard Trilogy
