Muhs,2013-03-14 Helena Mar a Viramontes is a professor scholar activist and renowned author of works of fiction and nonfiction Her work has been anthologized and is read widely in the United States and abroad For many of her readings and speaking engagements she arrives wearing a rebozo a shawl worn by Mexican and Chicana women living on both sides of the US Mexico border Once when asked about her rebozo Viramontes explained that the pre Columbian icon is her security blanket which she embraces in order to find comfort For her readers her writing functions like a rebozo de palabras a shawl woven with words that nurture As Gabriella Guti rrez y Muhs points out in her insightful introduction not only has Viramontes s work not yet received the broad critical engagement it richly deserves but there remains a monumental gap in the interpretations of Chicana literature that reach mainstream audiences Rebozos de Palabras addresses this void by focusing on how the Chicana image has evolved through Viramontes s body of work With a foreword by Sonia Sald var Hull this collection addresses Viramontes entire oeuvre through newly produced articles by major literary critics and emerging scholars who engage Viramontes s writing from multiple perspectives Encyclopedia of Gothic Literature Mary Ellen Snodgrass,2014-05-14 Presents an alphabetical reference guide detailing the lives and works of authors associated with Gothic literature The Social Imperative Paula L. Moya,2015-12-23 In the context of the ongoing crisis in literary criticism The Social Imperative reminds us that while literature will never by itself change the world it remains a powerful tool and important actor in the ongoing struggle to imagine better ways to be human and free Figuring the relationship between reader and text as a type of friendship the book elaborates the social psychological concept of schema to show that our multiple social contexts affect what we perceive and how we feel when we read Championing and modeling a kind of close reading that attends to how literature reflects promotes and contests pervasive sociocultural ideas about race ethnicity gender and sexuality Paula M L Moya demonstrates the power of works of literature by writers such as Junot Diaz Toni Morrison and Helena Maria Viramontes to alter perceptions and reshape cultural imaginaries Insofar as literary fiction is a unique form of engagement with weighty social problems it matters not only which specific works of literature we read and teach but also how we read them and with whom This is what constitutes the social imperative of literature Companion to Literature Abby H. Hospitality in American Literature and Culture Ana Maria Manzananas Calvo, Jesús Benito Sanchez, 2016-11-03 This book examines hospitality in American immigrant literature and culture situating it at the crossroads of space and border theory and exploring themes of migration citizenship identity formation and spatiality Assessing the conditions duration and shifting roles of hosts and guests in the US it visits recent representations of immigrant spatiality from the space of the body in film to the ways in which immigrants are incorporated into the US in a range of literary examples Timely and imperative in light of the legacies of colonialism and the realities of modern day globalization this book will be of value to fields including post colonialism American Studies and others The Problems of ethnic female Adolescents as portrayed in Toni Morrison's "The Bluest Eye", Maxine Hong Kingston's "The Woman Warrior", Sandra Cisneros' "The House on Mango Street" Anna Watorczyk, 2005-09-26 Inhaltsangabe Abstract African American Chinese American and Mexican American female adolescents are representatives of minority groups in the United States The three groups of ethnic girls were assigned derogative stereotypes by many Euro American writers who did not portray their characters authentically The modern female ethnic authors undertake the battle with stereotypes that are the main source of girls problems They attempt to convince the reader that the lives of young girls cannot be interpreted according to offending images imposed on them This thesis aims to draw attention to the problems encountered by female ethnic adolescents in Toni Morrison's The Bluest Eye 1970 Maxine Hong Kingston's The Woman Warrior 1976 Sandra Cisneros' The House on Mango Street 1984 and to portray their survival or collapse in American society Each of the books presented in the present study is a masterpiece of great literary value Toni Morrison was awarded the Nobel Prize for literature in 1993 Sandra Cisneros was the winner of the 1985 Before Columbus American Book Award Maxine Kingston won the National Book Critics Award with The Woman Warrior which was designated as non fiction in 1976 All of these books contribute significantly to the study of ethnic female adolescents The books chosen for the purpose of this thesis portray girls in an adolescent period The adolescents presented in this study are aged between ten and twenty one and are socially economically and politically dependent on their parents or guardians To further complicate matters the experiences of girls of colour are more complex than those encountered by white adolescents As the typical conflicts within the family problems with gender sexual development education and friends are juxtaposed with issues of racism and very often a lower social status In the light of these facts it does not come as a surprise that many ethnic adolescent girls have problems finding their self The first section of the initial chapter of this thesis takes into consideration the stereotypical image of Euro American adolescent girl as it often serves as a contradiction of the popular images of ethnic girls Furthermore the chapter examines stereotypes of African American Chinese American and Mexican American adolescents Despite their variety the stereotypes are the cause of girls victimisation in society The five following chapters analyse the problems more often
