The New American Cinema:

The New American Cinema Jon Lewis, 1998 Deliberately eclectic and panoramic THE NEW AMERICAN CINEMA brings together thirteen leading film scholars who present a range of theoretical critical and historical perspectives on a rich and pivotal time in American cinema that from the mid 1960s to the present With its range of topics and breadth of critical approaches this anthology illuminates the volatile mix of industrial process and artistic inspiration that comprises American moviemaking 46 photos The Hollywood Renaissance Peter Krämer, Yannis Tzioumakis, 2018-06-28 In December 1967 Time magazine put Bonnie and Clyde on its cover and proudly declared that Hollywood cinema was undergoing a renaissance For the next few years a wide range of formally and thematically challenging films were produced at the very centre of the American film industry often but by no means always combining success at the box office with huge critical acclaim both then and later This collection brings together acknowledged experts on American cinema to examine thirteen key films from the years 1966 to 1974 starting with Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? a major studio release which was in effect exempted from Hollywood's Production Code and thus helped to liberate American filmmaking from self censorship Long standing taboos to do with sex violence race relations drugs politics religion and much else could now be broken often in conjunction with extensive stylistic experimentation Whereas most previous scholarship has examined these developments through the prism of auteurism with its tight focus on film directors and their oeuvres the contributors to this collection also carefully examine production histories and processes In doing so they pay particular attention to the economic underpinnings and collaborative nature of filmmaking the influence of European art cinema as well as of exploitation experimental and underground films and the connections between cinema and other media notably publishing music and theatre Several chapters show how the innovations of the Hollywood Renaissance relate to further changes in American cinema from the mid 1970s onwards

The Roots of Modern Hollywood Nick Smedley, 2014 In this insightful study of Hollywood cinema since 1969 film historian Nick Smedley traces the cultural and intellectual heritage of American films showing how the more thoughtful recent cinema owes a profound debt to Hollywood's traditions of liberalism first articulated in the New Deal era Although American cinema is not usually thought of as politically or socially engaged Smedley demonstrates how Hollywood can be seen as one of the most value laden of all national cinemas

Drawing on a long historical view of the persistent trends and themes in Hollywood cinema Smedley illustrates how films from recent decades have continued to explore the balance between unbridled individualistic capitalism and a more socially engaged liberalism He also brings out the persistence of pacifism in Hollywood's consideration of American foreign policy in Vietnam and the Middle East His third theme concerns the treatment of women in Hollywood films and the belated acceptance by the film community of a wider role for the American post feminist woman Featuring important new interviews with four of Hollywood's most influential directors Michael Mann Peter Weir Tony Gilroy and Paul Haggis The Roots of Modern Hollywood is an incisive account of where Hollywood is today and the path it has taken to get there The New American Cinema Michael A.
