The Paradox Of Plenty Hunger In A Bountiful World:

The Paradox of Plenty Douglas H. Boucher, 1999 Since its founding in 1975 Food First Institute for Food and Development Policy has been in the forefront of the struggle to end world hunger Through its research Food First has shown that there is more than enough food for every man woman and child on the planet but all too often the poor do not have access to that food The Paradox of Plenty gathers together excerpts from twenty seven of Food First s best writings to provide an integrated overview of the world food system how global politics affect hungry people and the impact of the free market BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Genetically Modified Organisms the Mystery Unraveled PhD Miriam Jumba, 2010 Products of gene modification have vast implications Creating public awareness and disseminating information on the subject seeks to demystify some of the widely held falsehoods regarding genetically modified products This an informative thorough and easy to understand guide book that aims to enlighten and debunk some of the commonly held misconceptions on products of gene modification and to give the reader a better understanding of the role genetic modification will play The review sheds light on the safety and application of these products in medicine the food industry and other areas especially those where genetic modification may represent a cheap faster credible and viable alternative in achieving sustainable development amongst resource poor communities

Taboo ,2003 Scripture, Culture, and Agriculture Ellen F. Davis, 2008-10-13 This book examines the theology and ethics of land use especially the practices of modern industrialized agriculture in light of critical biblical exegesis Nine interrelated essays explore the biblical writers pervasive concern for the care of arable land against the background of the geography social structures and religious thought of ancient Israel This approach consistently brings out neglected aspects of texts both poetry and prose that are central to Jewish and Christian traditions Rather than seeking solutions from the past Davis creates a conversation between ancient texts and contemporary agrarian writers thus she provides a fresh perspective from which to view the destructive practices and assumptions that now dominate the global food economy The biblical exegesis is wide ranging and sophisticated the language is literate and accessible to a broad audience Decentering Biotechnology Michael S. Carolan, 2016-04-08 Decentering Biotechnology explores the nature of technology objects and patent law Investigating the patenting of organic life and the manner in which artifacts of biotechnology are given their object ive appearance Carolan details the enrollment mechanisms that give biotechnology its momentum Drawing on legal judgements and case studies this fascinating book examines the nature of object ification as a thought and a thing without which biotechnology as it is done today would not be possible Unable to reject biotechnology per se recognizing that such a rejection would essentialize the very object ive categories shown to be manufactured Carolan ultimately argues for doing biotechnology differently A theoretically sophisticated analysis of the nature of objects and the role of technology as a form of life which shapes the social landscape Decentering Biotechnology engages with questions of power globalization development resistance exclusion and participation that arise from treating biological objects differently from conventional property forms As such it will appeal to social theorists sociologists and philosophers as well as scholars of law and science and technology studies

Genetic Engineering in Agriculture Miguel A. Altieri, 2004 As debate rages over the costs and benefits of genetically engineered crops noted agroecologist Miguel Altieri lucidly examines some of the issue s most basic and pressing questions Are transgenic crops similar to conventionally bred crops Are transgenic crops safe to eat Does biotechnology increase yields Does it reduce pesticide use What are the costs to American farmers Will biotechnology benefit poor farmers Can biotechnology coexist with other forms of agriculture What are the known and potential environmental and biological risks What alternatives do we have to genetically modified crops

Taboo, 2003 Making Threats Betsy Hartmann, Banu Subramaniam, Charles Zerner, 2005-11-01 Today we live in times of proliferating fears The daily updates on the ongoing war on terror amplify fear and anxiety as if they were necessary and important aspects of our reality Concerns about the environment increasingly take center stage as stories and images abound about deadly viruses alien species invasions scarcity of oil water food safety of GMOs biological weapons and fears of overpopulation Making Threats Biofears and Environmental Anxieties addresses how such environmental and biological fears are used to manufacture threats to individual national and global security Contributors from environmental studies political science international security biology sociology and anthropology discuss what they share in common the view that fears should be critically examined to avoid unnecessary alarm and scapegoating of people and nations as the enemy Other In these highly original and thought provoking essays Making Threats focuses on five themes security scarcity purity circulation and terror No other book has systematically examined the proliferation of fear in the context of current world events and from such a multidisciplinary perspective It consolidates in one place cutting edge research and reflection on how the contemporary landscape of fear shapes and is shaped by environmental and biological discourses By uncovering the linguistic tools that make fear resonate in the public consciousness by identifying the interests that create or are sustained by fears in short by giving fears histories Making Threats Biofears and Environmental Anxieties engages with some of the most potent and disturbing political and cultural aspects of the contemporary scene

The Global New Deal William F. Felice, 2010-01-15 This powerful and empowering text offers a way forward out of global human suffering presenting a realistic roadmap for practical workable solutions to mass poverty Now fully updated including entirely new chapters The Global New Deal investigates key areas central to the achievement of economic and social human rights international political economy U N policies and programs environmental sustainability racial bias gender equality military spending and the U S approach to poverty alleviation Felice then introduces what he calls the global new deal a set of international policy proposals designed to protect the vulnerable and end needless suffering These structural reforms provide a viable means by which to safeguard social and economic human rights for all

The Eucharist and World Hunger Izunna Okonkwo, 2011-12-21 Hunger is a menace in different parts of the globe It has more unnatural than natural causes Though efforts have been made towards alleviating its causes and consequences more actions still need to be taken for its genuine alleviation and eventual eradication in the world For Joseph Grassi painful hunger is a daily occurrence that must be countered by ongoing effective programs that enter into the lives of every Christian Such position not only recognises the frequency and excruciating nature of hunger but also suggests that Christians and other religious groups have a very important role to play in order to eradicate hunger and its devastating effects This book explores the nuances of hunger its causes dimensions and approaches as well as its connection to the Eucharist It argues that hunger can be eradicated and that the Eucharist stands out as a veritable model

The New Century of the Metropolis Thomas Angotti, 2013 The problems created by metropolitanization have become increasingly apparent Strategies are needed to improve the world s major cities in the twenty first century Tom Angotti is fundamentally optimistic about the future of the metropolis but questions urban planning s inability to integrate urban and rural systems its contribution to the growth of inequality and increasing enclave development throughout the world Using the concept of urban orientalism as a theoretical underpinning of modern urban planning grounded in global inequalities Angotti confronts this traditional model with new progressive approaches to community and metropolis

The Human Right to Development in a Globalized World Daniel Aguirre, 2021-12-16 Offering a comprehensive analysis of the human right to development and its realistic application in an era of economic globalization Daniel Aguirre provides a multidisciplinary overview of economic globalization and examines its challenges to the realization of human development He takes this further by engaging with these challenges and highlighting the human rights opportunities presented by economic globalization and the international investment system The volume proposes a triadic system of responsibility for human rights in development to include mapping the overlapping human rights responsibilities of corporations at the micro level of states at the macro level and of the international community at the meso level The scope of the book is broad and the approach to the subject is new It will generate interest across many disciplines including political science international law and economics Activists academics and development practitioners in many fields should also read this book

Needless Hunger Betsy Hartmann, James K. Boyce, 1979 Why is a country with some of the world s most fertile land also the home of so many hungry people Betsy

Hartmann and James Boyce both Bengali speaking anthropologists spent two years in Bangladesh investigating the paradox of hunger in a basketcase country that actually produces enough grain for its people Needless Hunger follows the history and structure of Bangladesh society and also draws us into the daily lives of the people of Katni the village where the authors lived There is no natural barrier to filling the basic human needs of Bangladesh s people they conclude But there is the man made barrier of a social order benefiting the few at the expense of the many They found that the foreign aid pouring into the country actually entrenches the very elite who keep the majority powerless and hungry Needless Hunger is also a book of hope describing the strength and potential of the Bangladesh people and their desire for a society where food producing resources are controlled by the majority Book jacket
