has been a center for world literary circuits The English Paradigm in India Shweta Rao Garg, Deepti Gupta, 2017-09-18
This collection pulls together a wide range of perspectives to explore the possibilities and the boundaries of the paradigm of English studies in India. It examines national identity and the legacy of colonialism through a study of comparative and multi-ethnic literature, education, English language studies, and the role ICT now plays in all of these fields. Contributors look at how the issue of identity can be addressed and understood through food studies linking food culture and identity. The volume also considers the timely and very relevant question of gender in Indian society, of the role of the woman, the family, and the community in patriarchal contemporary Indian society. Through the lens of literature, culture, gender, politics, this exciting volume pulls together the threads which constitute modern Indian identity World Literature Decentered Ian Almond, 2021-07-13
What would world literature look like if we stopped referring to the West? Starting with the provocative premise that the West is ten percent of the planet, World Literature Decentered is the first book to decenter Eurocentric discourses of global literature and global history, not just by deconstructing or historicizing them, but by actively providing an alternative. Looking at a series of themes across three literatures: Mexico, Turkey, and Bengal, the book examines hotels, melancholy, orientalism, femicide, and the ghost story in a series of literary traditions outside the West. The non-West, the book argues, is no fringe group or token minority in need of attention; on the contrary, it constitutes the overwhelming majority of this world Teaching World Literature David Damrosch, 2009
This is an exciting and unsettling time to be teaching world literature, writes David Damrosch. Because the range of works taught in world literature courses has expanded enormously, both historically and geographically, the task of selection and of teacher preparation has grown more challenging. Teachers of this field must grapple with such issues as coverage, cultural difference, and the role of translation in the classroom. Should one emphasize masterpieces or traditions, concepts or themes? How does one avoid making a work bear the burden of representing an entire tradition? To what extent should anthologies be used? Can a course be global in scope and yet focus on a few works, authors, moments? This collection of thirty-two essays in the MLA series Options for Teaching offers an array of solutions to these challenges, reflecting the wide variety of institutions, courses, and students described by the contributors. An annotated bibliography is provided with a listing of useful Web sites.
