Chinese Migrants Ageing in a Foreign Land Shuang Liu, 2019-08-21. This book advances a new understanding of acculturation processes for older migrants, drawing on empirical data from migrants of Chinese heritage in Australia. It challenges the traditional models of acculturation, questions the conventional notion of integration and analyses the fluid nature of cultural identities. Drawing on insights from environmental gerontology, intercultural communication and acculturation theories, it conceptualises ageing in a foreign land as a home building process, highlighting the collective contributions of individual, community, social, cultural, technological and environmental factors to older migrants' well-being. A consideration of what it means to age in place for those whose home is not necessarily attached to one place and one culture, this volume will appeal to social scientists with interests in ageing, gerontology, migration and diaspora, as well as those working in the fields of aged care policy.

Emotional Intelligence at Work Chi-Sum Wong, 2015-08-27. Emotional intelligence is a very popular concept since it was made known to the general public in 1995. However, it was under severe criticisms among scientific researchers and a lot of them did not believe that it should be accepted by scientists as true knowledge. The author of this book, who is one of the pioneers in this topic, spent sixteen years to study this concept. Together with other researchers, they gradually changed the conclusion of early researchers. Using rigorously scientific standards, this research team demonstrated that emotional intelligence is an intelligence dimension that has significant impact on various life outcomes such as life satisfaction and job performance. They developed a testable theoretical framework for emotional intelligence in the workplace and attempted to show that the trainability of emotional intelligence is larger than traditional intelligence concept The book looks at not only the scientific reports but all the stories behind some of the rigorous scientific studies in the author's 18 year journey Their choice of research designs and how the designs are suitable to provide scientific evidence to demonstrate the validity of emotional intelligence are also described Through this book the process of scientific enquiry and important issues concerning the emotional intelligence concept are revealed in details by vivid stories and rigorous scientific reports

Spiritual Well-Being of Chinese Older Adults Vivian W. Q. Lou, 2015-02-04 There are several unique features of this book on the spiritual well being of Chinese older adults First based on qualitative methodology a conceptual model of spiritual well being was proposed Besides through a Delphi study different dimensions of spiritual well being were identified Conceptually such effort is important because there is a general lack of well articulated models of spiritual well being for Chinese people Although Western models can be transplanted to Chinese contexts indigenous concepts are needed As such this is a pioneer conceptual contribution Second the author developed and validated the Spiritual Scale for Chinese Elders In view of the lack of related measurement tools in the field this is a pioneer attempt which is important for social work education research and practice Third a Spiritual Enhancement Group for Chinese Elders was developed and its effectiveness was evaluated In contrast to ordinary elderly programs this program was based on solid theoretical grounds In addition process evaluation and outcome evaluation were conducted The intervention program is a beautiful link between theory and practice whereas the evaluation is a good outgrowth of practice The present project is especially valuable because evidence based practice is at its infancy in different Chinese communities
